Accident on a Car.

In stepping from the Pandora street car at the corner of Yates and Douglas streets yesterday at noon Mrs. F. B. McLellan's dress was caught in a bolt on the car step and the lady was dragged for several yards, one hand being on the ground while the other grasped the railing. She had by mistake boarded the Pandora street car and was getting off to change cars when the accident happened. The conductor stopped the car to allow her to alight but it started again before she had cleared the step. It is claimed that the car was not stopped as readily as it should have been, a gentleman on the sidewalk having time to catch the lady and hold her before it was brought to a standstill. Mrs. McLellan was taken home unconscious, and it is not yet known what injuries were sustained. It is the intention of Mr. McClellan to bring action against the company.

GEARY ACT UPHELD

Supreme Court Decides Against the Chinamen.

THEY MUST EITHER REGISTER OR GO

Remarks of Judge Gray in Giving Judgement.

The Act Held to be Well Within the Principle of International Law—James Gordon Bennett and the New York Herald—Judge Lynch Still Reigning in the States.

Washington, May 15.—The supreme court of the United States to-day affirmed the constitutionality of the Geary exclusion and registration act. The decision was announced by Justice Gray, Justice Brewer dissenting. The announcement that a decision in the case was expected drew a large attendance of spectators, and the fact that it was the last day of the term accounted for the presence of an unusually large array of attorneys within the bar, including Attorney-General Olney, Solicitor-General Aldrich, Messrs. Dolphs and Cockerell, Chief Justice Strong and several members of the diplomatic corps were among the spectators. Judge Gray in announcing the judgment said that the power of this nation to restrict or prohibit the immigration of any aliens into the country, or to require such aliens already in the country to remove therefrom, was a well-settled principle of international law and was confirmed by an unbroken line of decisions in this court. The legislative power of the government had not transcended any of its constitutional limitations in the act under consideration. It was within its power to determine the regulations under which aliens should be permitted to remain in the United States, or failing to observe these regulations they should be required to leave the country. The provisions of section 6 of the act, which are the parts of the law particularly at issue, were not inconsistent with the relations of the legislative and judicial departments to the government. The mode of procedure set forth in the section is similar to that in other well established proceedings, such as the habeas corpus and naturalization, fixing the requirements of citizenship and the like, where the judicial branch of the government accepted the determination of the executive upon the question involved. As to the requirements that the Chinese entitled to remain in this country should establish that right by the evidence of credible white witness, Justice Gray said that it was within the power of the Legislature to determine the character of the evidence that might be received in cases at law, and what force should be given to the testimony so offered. Not discussing the wisdom or the justice of the act in question, which was beyond the province of the judicial branch of the government, it remained only to say that the judgment of the circuit court for the southern district of New York in refusing to grant a writ of habeas corpus to the several petitioners was affirmed. Mr. Justice Gray stated that it had been impossible in the brief time lapsing since the hearing of the argument upon the petitions to prepare in writing the opinions of the court. It would be finished as soon as it was possible.

At the conclusion of Justice Gray's statement Justice Brewer announced that he felt compelled to dissent from the view of the majority of the court. He read his views at some length, declaring in substance that the act of 1892 was unconstitutional, that if it were upheld there was no guarantee that similar treatment might not be visited upon other classes of our population than the Chinese. Justice Field, who delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States in the first case under the Exclusion act, also read a dissenting opinion. He held that there was a wide difference between the exclusion of immigrants and the deportation of alien residents, and he characterized the act in the strongest language as inhuman and brutal and as violative of the constitution in every section. He regretted to say that the decision of the court was to his mind fraught with the gravest dangers to the priceless constitutional liberties of the people. Chief Justice Fuller also dissented from the opinion of the courts.

Dedicated the New City Hall.

Cincinnati, O., May 15.—Cincinnati's magnificent city hall was dedicated on Saturday with interesting exercises. The occasion was observed as a general holiday, and a large part of the city was gaily decorated. The exercises proper were preceded by a civic parade, the city officials and the members of their departments and several regiments of the national guard being in line. Gov. McKinley and staff, many of the mayors of the state, and of several Kentucky cities were among the invited guests. The dedicatory exercises were conducted from a stand in front of the Plum street entrance. The key of the structures was formally delivered to Mayor Mosby by Hon. Robert Allison, president of the city hall trustees. It was of bronze, gilded, and 14 inches long. The circular piece in the handle bore the city seal, and the notches in the other end made the figures "1893." The oration of the day was delivered by Hon. M. E. Ingalls. To-night there will be a big fireworks display on the river banks.

Cowboy Race to World's Fair.

Chadron, Neb., May 15.—This is the day originally set for the start of the great cowboy race to the Nebraska buildings at the World's Fair, but owing to the inability of many of the participants to make their engagements harmonize with the date it has been postponed until June 1st. Meanwhile the committee is holding daily meetings in order to perfect the programme. The race is to be open to anyone riding western horses, the latter to be bred and raised west of the Mississippi River, and all riders to weigh with saddles and blanket not less than one hundred and fifty pounds. It is expected that fully 500 cowboys will participate.

The Ball Opens.

Chicago, Ill., May 15.—N. B. Mantaus, of Woodland, Cal., was robbed of $4,000 in cash at the Fair yesterday. Mantaus is 70 years old and had a farm in Woodland, but his wife and child having died he concluded to sell his property and take a trip to his old home in Germany. He carried out the idea of selling his farm, received $4,000 for it, and began his journey to Germany. He arrived at Chicago on Friday and took rooms at the Grand Central hotel. Yesterday he started for the Fair, carrying all his wealth in his pocket-book in the inside pocket of his overcoat. He did not know when or how he was robbed, but thought it was while in a crowd that watched the engines practising on an imaginary fire.

Bennett and the Herald.

New York, May 13.—There were reports in circulation last night that the Herald was no longer the sole property of James Gordon Bennett. Color was given to the report by the fact that, for the first time since Mr. James Gordon Bennett inherited the editorship and proprietorship of the paper from his father, his name did not appear at the head of the editorial page of the paper.

For some months past reports have been in circulation that large sums of money had been advanced to Mr. Bennett by John W. Mackay, the California bonanza king, and that as security Mr. Mackay had taken a mortgage on the plant of the Herald. The loan, it was said, was advanced to cover losses in connection with the establishment of the Mackay-Bennett cables and losses sustained by Mr. Bennett's European editions of his paper in London.

Mr. Bennett came over to this country last week, and yesterday he sailed for Europe again. William C. Rieck, city editor of the Herald, accompanied him. Simultaneously with his departure for Europe his name disappeared from the editorial page.

Hanged by the Mob.

Bedford, Ind., May 15.—At 2 o'clock this morning a mob of 100 appeared before the jail here and forced the sheriff to give up the keys and took John Turley, who murdered Conductor L. F. Price at Seymour, from his cell and hanged him in the jail yard. Turley begged for his life, but his appeals were met with silence. The lynching was conducted in a most orderly manner, Turley's cries being the only sound heard.

Terrible Mining Disaster.

Lincoln, Neb., May 15.—Last night about 10:30 an explosion occurred in the Citizens' coal shaft, from mining gas, about 14,000 feet from the entrance. The night boss and five men are believed to have been killed. The mine is shattered at that end, and no sound could be heard from where the men were working. Joseph Miller got to the top of the shaft about 12 o'clock and more help was secured, as only a dozen men were at work, being Sunday night. Those undoubtedly killed are: Joseph Page, aged 50, night boss, has a large family; Henry Wilnet, 30, wife and four children; Mike Gleeson, 33, wife and three children; Dan Waylon, 50, wife; Steve Stucke, 50, widow and children, and had worked in this mine 20 years; Pat Mulkey, large family.

South American Matters.

Panama, Colombia, May 15.—News has just been received by mail from Lima announcing that President Bermudez has issued a decree under which the Peruvian congress will assemble on the 28th. The publication of the decree was made the occasion of a great demonstration in favor of the government. It is now reported that Caceres, the official candidate for president to succeed Dr. Bermudez, will be forced to withdraw. It is said, however, that Caceres has notified the authorities that he will make an exhibition of his party strength in a few days by holding a public demonstration. He has given notice. He asserts in the order that the police may have time to adopt measures to prevent a clash between the political factions.

Valparaiso, May 15.—A request has been made by Chilean mine owners that the government send a transport to San Francisco, for the purpose of bringing exhibits from the United States to the exhibition which will be held in Santiago next year. It is proposed to secure many of the displays now on exhibition at Chicago for the Chilian show, and return them to San Francisco free of charge. The propject is favorably regarded by the government. It is hoped that through the president at Santiago American machinery can be introduced.

Two stories have reached here concerning the result of a battle which took place on Saturday near Inhanduy between the Castilhista troops and the revolutionists of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil. The account of the engagement from San Eugenio says that the battle was indecisive. Gen. Tille and a large body of Castilhista troops are encamped near Santa Ana, which is one of the rebel strongholds. He is short of horses, but intends to attack the town and then begin a general fight, destroy Tavarez and Salgado and their troublesome revolutionary army.

NANAIMO GAS COMPANY.

Annual Meeting Held on Saturday Afternoon—Officers Elected.

Dr. G. L. Milne, M.P.P., returned to-day from Nanaimo, where he attended the annual meeting of the Nanaimo Gas Company, of which he is president.

The annual report showed that the year just closed had been the most successful in the operation of the company. The gross earnings were greater, while the expenses were proportionately lessened, thus leaving a larger percentage of profit. The works are now in first-class order, and capable of producing gas for a population three times larger than that of Nanaimo, at present. The recent extensions cost in the neighborhood of $15,000, making the works complete in every department. The report compliments Mr. Thomas, the manager for his diligence and skill, specially alluding to keeping the supply uninterrupted during the cold wave last winter, and also to Mr. W. K. Leighton, secretary-treasurer, for his successful management.

The board of directors was unanimously re-elected, and a vote of thanks tendered to them for their efficient services.

The declaring of 6 per cent. dividend was also a most pleasing feature to the shareholders.

At a meeting of the directors the following officers were elected: G. L. Milne, president; John Meirer, vice-president; directors, C. D. Rand, F. H. Worlock and Morgan Harris; W. K. Leighton, secretary-treasurer.

MORE BANK FAILURES

The National Bank of Queensland Collapsed.

IT HAD DEPOSITS OF OVER $40,000,000

The Suspension Was Expected in London.

It Will Probably Resume Operations—Enormous Cost of Behring Sea Arbitration—English Socialists United—Banks in California and Michigan Which Have Also Suspended.

Brisbane, May 15.—The Bank of North Queensland, limited, has suspended. The Queensland National Bank has also suspended. The deposits in the Queensland National Bank last December amounted to £8,500,000, of which about one-half is from Great Britain. The subscribed capital of the Queensland National Bank is £16,000,000, of which half is paid. The bank has a reserve fund of £8,250,000. The general agent in Brisbane is Edward Robert Drury, and the colonial board consists of Hon. F. H. Hart, Hon. Boyd D. Morehead, Sir A. H. Palmer and Alexander Brand Webster. The London board consists of Charles E. Barnett, Edwin Sandy Dawes, Vicary O. Gibbs and Robert M. Stewart. The bank has a branch in Sydney, N. S. W., and also in various other places in Australia.

London, May 15.—The suspension of the National Bank of Queensland caused no excitement in financial circles. The officials of the National cable from Brisbane that stoppage is due to oversight withdrawal of deposits. Shares in the National Bank of Queensland have been at a discount for weeks in the Stock Exchange, and the stoppage of the bank caused no surprise. Officials of the Queensland National express confidence that it will be reconstructed, as it still retains valuable securities.

English Socialists Unite.

London, May 13.—The three groups of English Socialists who divided their party years ago have re-united and to-day issued a joint manifesto to the Socialists of the country. They appeal to their comrades to sink all individual differences and strike hands on the common platform. The principal demand of the joint programme is for the legal introduction of the eight-hour working day, the prohibition of child labor, the maintenance by the state of the necessitous children, the same wages for women as for men where the same amount of work is done, the fixing of minimum wages for adult laborers in the government and municipal services, the abolition of the sub-letting of contracts on public works, payment of all men in public service, including members of parliament, and really universal suffrage are also demanded.

An Enormous Bill of Costs.

London, May 13.—The cost of the Behring Sea arbitration is the subject of much speculation in the parliamentary lobbies. It transpired to-day that Sir Charles Russell and Sir Richard Webster, British counsel, received fees of £2000 each, with £100 daily during the sitting of the court. The salaries of numerous secretaries and clerks attached to the English Behring Sea commission, and the expenses incidental to the preparation of the stenograph report, will swell the whole bill to an enormous sum, quite out of proportion to the interests of the country in the enquiry. Those who have watched the proceedings most closely agree that the American arrangements have been at least as satisfactory as the English, while much more economical.

Santa Clara Bank Failure.

San Jose, May 15.—In the bank investigation, Bank Commissioner Knight said yesterday afternoon that he had discovered to-day $70,000 in commercial notes and $36,000 in mortgages. Investigation to-day revealed a $60,000 overdraft of Leonard and a $7,500 note of Leonard and Hayward. A circular was issued to-day calling for a meeting of depositors, who will decide upon some plan of action. T. E. Hayward, director of the bank at Ironton, Ohio, brother of the dead cashier, has arrived and has been allowed to assist in the investigation to protect the interests of the dead cashier. The town is full of all sorts of rumors. Vice-President Leonard, who is now made the vehicle for all the blame, is said to be suffering from nervous prostration and refuses to be interviewed. While on the day of the failure none could be found in Santa Clara who would say a word against Leonard, he is now execrated on all sides. Some of the depositors who felt perfectly safe, and who even went so far as to proffer pecuniary assistance, are now becoming nervous. An exciting time may be expected at the meeting of the depositors of the bank.

Stormy Times for Banks.

Edwardsburg, Mich., May 15.—The following notice appeared to-day on the doors of the suspended Citizens' bank: "This bank will be closed for a few days until we can shape ourselves. Depositors will not lose anything if they will stand by me. J. L. Kiechner, cashier." The bank has been associated with the D. Wiggins, Starbuck Co., of the Columbia National bank of Chicago.

Koch's Surprising Gaiety.

Berlin, May 15.—The wife of Prof. Robert Koch, celebrated bacteriologist, recently procured a divorce from her husband, and the professor has now been ordered by the court to pay to her one-fourth of his income. It is announced that Professor Koch will marry a young actress playing at Barney's theatre, this city.

The Fair and Bicycles.

Chicago, May 15.—The general committee having charge of the World's Fair international bicycle meet to be held in this city in August is in session here to-day. The World's Fair officials have so far receded from their order barring bicycles from the grounds as to agree that they may be brought in and stored in a building that has been erected for that purpose, and in consequence the committee will reconsider its decision to abandon the bicycle day at the fair. To-night a banquet is to be tendered to the English champion S. J. Osmond. Aongst those who will be present are President Burdette, Vice-President Brown, and H. E. Raymond, of the racing board.

DECISION IN DANUBE CASE

Judge Bellinger Allows Captain Meyer's Exception to the Libel.

REASONS FOR DISMISSING THE CASE

The Case Fully Reviewed by the Judge of the United States Circuit Court at Portland—The Various Charges for Which She Was Libelled.

Judge Bellinger delivered an opinion in the United States Circuit Court at Portland on Friday in the case of the United States vs. the steamer Danube and William Meyers, master, allowing exceptions to the libel and dismissing the same. Following is the decision in full:

This is an action by the United States for penalties aggregating $19,660, for a violation of the provisions of the act of August 2, 1882, to regulate the carriage of passengers by sea (chapter 374, supplement to the revised statutes.) The libel alleges: "That on the —— day of March, 1893, the steamship The Empress of Japan left Hong Kong, China, with, among other passengers, about 630 Chinese bound for Portland, Or. That said vessel, about the —— day of May, 1893, arrived at Vancouver Island, B. C., and there said Chinese passengers were ordered and placed in quarantine on said Island, and so remained in quarantine for 21 days, at the end of which time 612 of said Chinese were placed on the steamship Danube, one of the defendants above named, and of which the other defendant above named, Wm. Meyers, was the master. That after said Chinamen were so placed on said steamship Danube, the said master proceeded at once with said vessel by way of Astoria, Or., to Portland, Or., where said vessel was seized as aforesaid. That all of said 612 Chinamen were so carried on said steamship Danube from said Vancouver Island into the United States by way of Astoria, Or., and that none of said 612 Chinamen were cabin passengers. That the entire space upon said vessel, which was subject to use for and by said 612 Chinamen, was 32,588 cubic feet, of which 14,617 cubic feet was on the first deck below the main deck, and 17,471 cubic feet were on the second deck below the main deck; in which aggregate space was also placed a large amount of baggage of said Chinamen. That all the said Chinamen were over the age of 12 years. That by reason of all and singular the premises aforesaid, and by force of the statute in such case made and provided, the said vessel on the said trip carried 312 Chinamen in excess of the number which she was entitled to carry, and the said master and vessel became and are each liable to a penalty of $50 for each of said 312 persons, and said steamship Danube thereby became, and was, and is holden for such aggregate penalty of $15,600."

The libel alleges as further violations of the provisions of the act in question that such steamship was without berths for use by such passengers; that it did not have adequate provisions for affording light and air to such passengers; that the master provided neither tables nor seats for their use, and that there was no hospital compartments or surgeon or medical practitioner provided during such trip from Vancouver Island to Astoria.

To this libel William Meyers, claimant, excepts upon the ground that it affirmatively appears that the passengers taken on the steamer Danube were so taken at a foreign port or territory contiguous to the United States, and that the case is therefore within the provision that excepts transportation of passengers from such ports from the operation of the act. The language of the act is: "That it shall not be lawful for the master of a steamship or other vessel whereon emigrant passengers, or passengers other than cabin passengers, have been taken at any port or place in a foreign country or dominion (ports and places in foreign territory contiguous to the United States excepted) to bring such vessel and passengers to any port or place in the United States, unless the compartments, spaces and accommodations hereinafter mentioned, have been provided," etc.

The question therefore is whether Vancouver Island is territory contiguous to the United States. The word "territory," as generally used, describes a jurisdiction—a district of country. Thus we speak of the territories of the United States—of the Northwest Territory, or the territory of Alaska. The word refers to a jurisdiction. It is not limited, when speaking of any particular district as territory, to the line of high-water mark along the shores of navigable rivers, or bays or straits. The territory of a jurisdiction or country extends to its boundaries. It describes the possessions of a country. The straits of Rosario, the waters of Puget Sound, are American territory.

The treaty of 1846 between Great Britain and the United States and the protocol of a conference of the representatives of the two governments, held on March 10, 1873, define a precise boundary line between the possessions of the two governments in respect to the point in question. There had, prior to this conference, been a disagreement as to whether the boundary ran through the Rosario straits, as claimed by Great Britain, or to the west through the Canal de Haro, as claimed by the United States. The dispute having been submitted to the arbitrament of the Emperor of Germany, and his award being favorable to the latter claim, the line was laid down accordingly in the protocol referred to. By this agreement Rosario Straits became American "territory," the line of which was located substantially in the middle of the channel of the Canal de Haro and the straits of Fuca.

The word "territory," when used to define the possessions of the two countries, must be understood as extending to this boundary, and these possessions as contiguous territory within the meaning of the law. The reason for this legislation is obvious. It was to guard against the mischief of overcrowding emigrant passengers. The act is restricted to "emigrant passengers," or what amounts to the same thing, "passengers other than cabin passengers." It is common knowledge that the great bulk of emigrant travel from foreign territory is transatlantic. The conditions of this travel are such that emigrant passengers are exposed to the danger of overcrowding—a danger that is aggravated by the length of the voyage, but that does not exist with reference to short and coastwise lines of travel. Section 12 extends the provisions of the act to vessels whereon passengers are taken on board at any port or place "of the United States on the Atlantic Ocean or its tributaries for conveyance to a port or place on the Pacific ocean or its tributaries, or vice versa, and whether the voyage of said vessel is to be continuous from port to port or such passengers are to be conveyed from port to port in part by way of any overland route through Mexico or Central America."

Under this provision, protection is afforded to passengers, by water routes, between American ports on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. So the question of jurisdiction was not a controlling consideration with the framers of this law. It is not important that ventilation and bunks, and hospital stores and medical practitioners be provided for a voyage of 10 miles, from Victoria to Port Angeles or Port Townsend, but these are important provisions for passengers sailing between New York or San Francisco or Portland, via the Isthmus or otherwise.

This is a carriage of passengers to this port from a foreign territory contiguous to the United States, and belongs to the class of cases excepted from the statute. The exceptions to the libel are allowed.

Engineer Murray was killed between Jackfish and Schreiber, on the C.P.R. His engine was pulling a freight train when it ran into a washout. The rest of the train and the crew escaped. Saturday's westbound was held at the break.

A deputation representing the Pioneer and Historical Association waited upon the Ontario government and asked that a monument be erected to Governor Simcoe near the legislative buildings. It was promised that the subject would be considered.

The appeal of the Austin Street Railway Company of Winnipeg to prevent the electric company operating on certain streets came before the full court of Manitoba and was dismissed with costs. Mr. Austin will appeal the case to the privy council.

The Willard Tract Depository in Toronto is in financial difficulties, and is being wound up. The institution was started 14 years ago. The stock, valued at $50,000, has been sold at the rate of 50 cents on the dollar to a Chicago publishing house, which will hereafter conduct the business under the old name.

It is rumored at Halifax that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is taking steps to acquire the Windsor and Annapolis and Western Counties Railway. The rumor further says "that if the company gets this road, it will put on a line of steamers from Yarmouth to Boston, and run a fast daily service, when it will bring all its passengers and freight for the lower provinces through Boston, and thence to Yarmouth by water."

A cable dispatch from St. John's, Nfld., says that on the motion of Mr. Murray, in the Legislature, the question of confederation with Canada sprang up on a resolution based upon the proceedings of the recent conference held in Halifax between the Dominion and Newfoundland ministers. Premier Whiteway declared that while he was not strongly opposed to confederation, he did not consider the present time opportune for discussing the matter. He believed that the vast majority of the people of the island were against confederation, and he did not care to touch on the matter, without a mandate from the people, and even then he must have a good majority to do so. Mr. Morine, an ardent confederationist, took the same view of the question, and the motion to consider the resolution was defeated on a division by a large majority.

Shipwrecked on the Shuswap.

Mr. Fred Barnes has returned from the Shuswap, where he had a hair-breadth adventure. Mr. Barnes has a ranch up there and was getting in supplies for it. There being no road nor trail by which settlers can take in their effects, Mr. Barnes, in company with Messrs. Borthwick and Nelson, went up White Valley and built a scow upon which they loaded about $600 worth of outfit. Mr. Borthwick had all his belongings with him and Mr. Barnes had a lot of farm implements. The river is at present getting pretty high, and as it is muddy they could not see where the snags were, but as this was the only highway by which such transport could be made they were obliged to take their chances. Everything proceeded all right for a while until they ran upon a snag which punched a hole in the bottom of their craft, and it soon filled and went to the bottom, leaving the three occupants to swim for their lives. In manning the scow down the river, they had taken off boots, coats and hats, and in this plight they were left in the bush to make their way out as best they could. Fortunately they managed to recover one case of the outfit, and in it happened to be three pairs of boots, which enabled them to start out, as one of them aptly expressed it, "heeled once more." These are some of the difficulties which settlers in this district have to contend with owing to the failure of the Government to provide colonization roads for opening up the country. It will now be in order for some other old fogey who will claim to be a resident of White Valley or the Mabel Lake district for thirty years to bob up serenely in Victoria and inform the Colonist that "there are plenty of roads in White Valley and the people have no reason to complain."—Vernon News.

VANCOUVER'S Y. M. C. A.

A Splendid Building to be Opened by the Lieut.-Governor Next Week.

The dedication of the Vancouver Y. M. C. A. building will take place next Thursday, the 18th inst., at 2 p. m., His Honor Lieut.-Gov. Dewdney and Mrs. Dewdney presiding.

The ladies' central committee, under the presidency of the mayoress, Mrs. Cope, has organized for the purpose of arousing in the citizens of Vancouver a deeper interest in the welfare of the young men of this city and to express in a tangible way their sympathy with the Y. M. C. A. in their noble efforts to provide a building where young men, irrespective of creed, may meet in a social way and indulge in innocent amusements and healthful recreation, where the influences surrounding them may be of a refining and elevating character. The handsome, new, commodious Y. M. C. A. building is almost completed, and the ladies have decided to provide for the equipment of a first-class gymnasium, the construction of swimming baths and the furnishing in a fitting manner of the various parlors and reception rooms. In the new association building a very large space has been devoted to gymnasium purposes, and the management of the Y. M. C. A. has under consideration the advisability of organizing a physical culture class for ladies, as well as creating a juvenile department, that the boys may be able to enjoy the privileges of the gymnasium during certain hours of each day. Perhaps in no city of the Dominion are pleasant, comfortably furnished parlors, amusement rooms and a well equipped gymnasium more required than in Vancouver, where so many young men, far from the influences and safeguards of home, are exposed to temptations on every hand.

Mayor Cope has proclaimed Thursday afternoon a public holiday, and all the churches, schools and societies, with the citizens generally, have been invited to participate in the exercises. The opening will be followed by a reception to the vice-regal party. On the second day lunch will be served from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m., following which the Kermesse will be opened by Mrs. Dewdney. In the evening a grand concert under the patronage of the Lieutenant-Governor will be held in the opera house. The next day there will be a sale of goods, followed by a conversazione.

A Band Saw Novelty.

An ingeniously constructed band resawing machine is among the recent mechanical novelties of note. Its distinguishing feature is that the feed rolls may be given a speed varying from 12 to 40 feet per minute, this being accomplished by means of a friction device belted to the rolls and consisting of two bevel disks, between which the belt runs, one of which is fixed, the other being movable on the shaft; by means of a hand screw the position of the belt on the disks may be changed at will and any desired speed of rolls be obtained. The attachment carrying the feed rolls is entirely independent of the table and may be swung back entirely out of the way, permittting the use of the machine as a band saw or resaw, as may be wished. The wheel has two flanges, and the spokes, after passing through the outer are tapped into the inner flange, thus insuring great rigidity and lightness; and instead of the usual fixed and loose pulleys the machine is provided with a friction-clutch driving pulley.

VALUABLE ESTATE
For Sale or Exchange for City Property.

In consequence of sickness the owner has decided to sell the ranch known as Stroebel's Addition to the cities of Huntingdon and Sumas, an investment seldom offered; location good. One hundred acres of good bottom and prairie land, well ditched and improved; Farm House, Outbuildings, etc. This property is sure to become in the near future valuable town property, independent of being good farming land. It is at present a railway centre. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company purchased a piece of the above described quarter section for their station; and also for the proposed Chilliwack Railway coming in on this property, which will add one more to the many railways already there. The adjoining property constitutes the cities of Huntingdon and Sumas, where there is a population of 1000 people. The B.B. and B.C. Railway Company and the Northern Pacific Railway Company's stations are some two hundred yards from the land now offered for sale. The B.I. and F.V. Railway Company's station will be erected a few yards from this property, if not on it. Fifty acres ready for the plough. Part of it already in crop. The above is a good opening for anyone wishing to commence in the milk or dairy business. The buyer would have the privilege of running a large number of cattle over six thousand acres of unfenced prairie land adjoining the above place. This land is well adapted for hop raising, and will grow hay at the rate of four tons to the acre, which can be shipped into Vancouver by the B.I. and F.V. Railway or the Canadian Pacific at a moderate rate. The above place will be sold cheap. Possession can be given at any time. Terms will be made liberal and made to suit the purchaser. A large percentage of the purchase consideration will be allowed to remain on mortgage security at current rate of interest. Further particulars on application to undersigned. Apply to

A BY-LAW

WHEREAS it is expedient to raise a sum of money to provide for the construction of certain main surface drains in the city of Victoria as follows:

Work Estate,

View street and branches,

Spring Ridge and Fernwood road,

Cook street and branches,

Michigan and Superior streets,

Oswego street,

Menzies street,

North and South Pandora streets,

Victoria West,

And other necessary drains not specified.

AND WHEREAS the estimated cost of such works is $125,000.

AND WHEREAS for the purpose aforesaid it is intended to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the city the sum of $125,000.

AND WHEREAS it will require the sum of $8,125 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the said debt and interest hereinafter mentioned.

AND WHEREAS the amount of the whole rateable property of the corporation of the city of Victoria according to the last revised assessment roll, being for the year 1892, was $18,749,125.

AND WHEREAS it will require an annual special rate of four-fifths of one mill in the dollar for the payment of the interest and for creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said new debt according to the Municipal Act, 1892.

AND WHEREAS it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the said special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation.

Be it therefore enacted by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

Sec. 1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow upon the credit of the said Corporation by way of debentures hereinafter mentioned, from any person or persons or body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same as a loan, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $125,000 00 currency, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the treasurer of the said corporation for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

Sec. 2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $125,000 00 in currency, each of the said debentures being of the amount of $1,000, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof.

Sec. 3. The said debentures shall be made payable in fifty years from the date hereinafter mentioned for this by-law to take effect, at the office of the treasurer of the said corporation, in the City Hall, Victoria, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, and the signature of the Mayor and of the Clerk of the Corporation respectively to the coupons may be affixed by printed, stamped or lithographed fac simile.

Sec. 4. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent. per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half yearly at the office of the said treasurer.

Sec. 5. For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest to become due thereon an equal special rate of four-fifths of one mill in the dollar shall in addition to all other rates be levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property within the city of Victoria during the continuance of the said debentures or any of them.

Sec. 6. In case of any conflict, inconsistency or repugnancy between the provisions of this by-law and any of the provisions of the Local Improvement By-law, 1892, as amended by By-law No. 178, entitled, "A By-law to amend the Local Improvement By-law, 1892," the provisions of this by-law shall prevail and override any of the provisions of such Local Improvement By-law to the extent of any such conflict, inconsistency or repugnancy, but this by-law shall not be deemed to in any wise repeal, alter or amend such Local Improvement By-law and amendment, except in so far as this by-law is concerned, and then so far only as is necessary to give full force and effect to this by-law.

Sec. 7. This by-law shall before the passage thereof receive the assent of the electors of the said corporation in a manner provided for by the Municipal Act, 1892, or any amendment thereto, and shall take effect on the first day of May, 1893.

Sec. 8. This by-law may be cited as "The Surface Drains By-law, 1893."

Passed the Municipal Council this 27th day of March, 1893.

Received the assent of and confirmed by the municipal electors on the 18th day of April, 1893.

Reconsidered, adopted, and finally passed by the municipal council on the 19th day of April, 1893.

(Sd) ROBERT BEAVEN, Mayor.

WANDERINGS IN IRELAND

The Castles and Keeps of the Irish Chiefs of Long Ago.

WITCHING SCENES IN SOUTHERN PARTS

How Douglas Pyne Defied the Law for Three Months—The Communion of Spenser and Raleigh on the "Ould Sod"—Beautiful Cork.

London, May 1, 1893.—Throughout the entire South of Ireland, and particularly along the banks of such rivers as the Barrow, Suir, Blackwater, Bride and Lee, are found the ruins or the well preserved remains of huge square castles, built by the heads of septs and claus at different periods during the thirteenth, fourteenth, fifteenth, and a few as late as the sixteenth, centuries.

Whatever the reasons for the same, these massive stone keeps—for they bore no resemblance to the architecturally beautiful Irish and English castles of the Elizabethen and a still more modern time—seemed to have been constructed with reference to conveying intelligence from one to another, probably from signal-lights from their lofty parapets, as some which are still standing are more than 100 feet in height. Wherever you may saunter along these southern Irish rivers, you will find that there is an uninterrupted view between the sites of the ancient castle ruins. Often they are but six miles apart; frequently from four to six; but in every instance they are in view of each other; and ancient roads, showing that quick and easy communication was taken into account, are invariably found between.

Probably three of the most interesting of these massive old structures in the south of Ireland are very near together; and can all be visited in a day's journey. They are castle Lisfinny, at the ancient town of Tallow on the river Bride, near the boundaries of counties Waterford and Cork; and castle Blarney, in the beautiful Blarney vale, but an hour's lovely walk from the winsome city of Cork. Taken together these three are the best existing specimens of the tower-house or castle of the ancient Irish chieftain; while each in its way is world famous in view of its distinctive associations.

Castle Lisfinny stands on the side of a gentle declivity, which rises from the margin of the river Bride, with the sleepy old town of Tallow and its low gray convent nestling in the valley on the southern side. It is supposed to have been built by the Earl of Desmond, and has undergone but little change during the past hundred years. It consists of a massive square tower with facades of fully fifty feet and the structure is nearly 100 feet high. Its summit commands a delightful view of the valley of the Bride, upwards of twenty miles in extent, gemmed with villas, sheeted with luxurious farms, and dappled at intervals with witching revealments of the river, here and there appearing like tiny lakes of silver in emerald settings of verdure and woodland.

The late Douglas Pyne, M. P. for West Waterford, as I knew from personal acquaintance one of the most lovable of men, in the fall of 1887 threw the whole United Kingdom and a part of America into roars of laughter, from his odd and characteristically Irish mode of avoiding arrest for upwards of three months, with the police, soldiery and a warrant all literally under his very nose. The "seditious offenses" which had brought this law upon him, consisted in tunneling, from his own land to the house of a neighboring tenant undergoing siege for eviction, and in this novel manner supplying him now and then in his dilemma with courage and comfort in the form of an odd bottle of whiskey, and a scug hamper of victuals cooked by good Mrs. Pyne herself. Mr. Pyne was considerable of a wag, and as it was October when he was "summonsed," his crops were all in, and as Parliament did not meet until January, he decided to employ the intervening time in having a little fun with the minions of the law.

Mr. Pyne was a tenant of the Lisfinny demesne; and his home, a few yards from the castle, was one of those old and almost obsolete mansions of the Irish gentleman of half a century ago. He had converted the castle into byre, barn and storehouse. Into this strange structure Pyne and two of his companions retreated, walling up and completely barricading the lower entrance; and, provided with canned meats, fruits and other edibles, with an unknown quantity of whiskey and cigars, here he grandiosely defied arrest.

An entire company of Balfour's soldiers endeavored to dislodge him. But that was impossible. An entrance could not be effected. Even if one had been made, arrangements were such within, that anywhere from one to a dozen tons of rock could have been precipitated upon the invaders. Mr. Pyne from his lofty perch above them, soothingly told the soldiers all this, and much more which made their duties particularly agreeable. The situation becoming known, Lisfinny was the centre of attraction for all Ireland. Throngs came to Tallow daily to cheer Mr. Pyne, who sagely addressed them on the "wrongs of Ireland" from a window 90 feet from the ground; while the unfortunate soldiery were the butt of immeasurable and inexpressible ridicule.

For thirteen weeks this tremendous farce continued, when finally the great question as to how Mr. Pyne would take his seat in Parliament grew to be universally discussed. Irish wit and recourse answered this promptly. Suddenly there appeared placarded all over the counties of Cork and Waterford a notice that Mr. Douglas Pyne's grazing lands would on a certain day be sublet by auction. Towards evening of that day every road leading into Tallow swarmed with Irish cattle and Irish men. By sunset over 1000 cattle were bellowing and charging around the base of old Lisfinny, while fully 100 tenant farmers, swearing, protesting, fighting, managed to have the soldiers hopelessly stampeded by the excited herds.

It is about 40 miles by road from Tallow to Cork Harbor. In the melee, a clever ruse by Pyne's friends among the tenantry, the eminent offender was lowered from his eerie, and by relays of swift horses was at Queenstown before midnight. The next night he was in the south of England, and ten days later, while Balfour's soldiers were still closely guarding old Lisfinny, that the arrant rebel should not escape, Douglas Pyne quietly entered the House of Commons in London, and gravely took his seat in Parliament, amid such cheers as never before or since made the great structure tremble to its very foundations.

I feel sure that one—after enjoying the glories of the Blackwater with those of its sweet and murmurous tributary, the Awbeg, and after a tramp from old Doneraile town, set like a squalid gypsy encampment amid gorgeous natural environs, to the level tract where stands the ruins of Kilcolman Castle, the Irish home of the poet Spenser—would agree with me in pronouncing the place one of the loneliest spots in all Ireland. A vast vale surrounds it; but as far as the eye can reach there is scarcely a sign of human habitation. The once noble forests have disappeared. Only one little lake to the south can be seen; and searching in vain for sight or sound of human activity or nearness, only the gray of a far horizon-edge settles leadenly down upon the Waterford mountains to the east, the heights of Kerry to the west, the Nagle mountains to the south, and the Ballyhowra Hills to the north. It is said that from the top of the castle a view of about half the breadth of Ireland was once commanded. If there was compensation in that in Spenser's time, it could hardly be found now.

Kilcolman, or Cill Colman in Irish, means Colman's church. There were above 60 saints Colman, and any of these, to one's liking, may be taken as the patron saint of this particular townland locality. The castle, as the ruins indicate, however remote the date of its construction, must have been one of strength and importance. Historically it is known to have been originally one of the great Earl of Desmond's fortified castles. The lower portion of the great quadrangular keep is in a good state of preservation for about thirty feet from the ground; one of its side walls, showing a noble window, rises solidly and firmly for perhaps 25 feet above this; and a massive square flanking tower still lifts its rough old walls to a probable height of 70 feet. It must have been a weird and dreary place for one of Spenser's fine nature.

But three things of the gravest importance to poet, prince or peasant, came to this man in his eleven years of practical banishment here, between 1587 and 1599. The first of these was the chastening and exalting influence of absolute self-denial. The second was in his wooing and marrying a woman "of mean birth," who was so loyal, sweet and good, that Spenser never knew an unhappy hour on her account during his life, more power to women "of mean birth" for it. The other was in his visits to and communions with his noble friend, Raleigh, at mossy old Youghal, a few miles distant upon the sea coast. Raleigh, genius and poet that he himself was, generously recognized the greater poet's true greatness; warmed his heart with sunny hospitalities; sustained his doubtful dreamings with a strong and heartsome friendship; and, in 1589, bodily took the timorous Spenser to London; personally introduced him to the Queen; and that very year saw the publication of the first three books of Faerie Queen.

These three good fortunes, despite bitter financial straits on the one hand, and, on the other, Irish "rebellions" of startling frequency that every far line of trees, like trembling silhouettes against the horizon, undoubtedly took on the form of Desmond and Tyrone avengers, made him sing as no English poet before his time had ever sung. And in these true things of his life lay the compensations; for the later days of poverty in London, where, as the sequel proved, English indifference was more fatal than Irish savagery, brought him nothing save the loyalty of his companion "of mean birth;" and he was allowed to die in want in the land he had more infinitely honored than any other who ever lived in it, save Shakespeare. There is but little here to remind of Spenser now. So desolate is old Kilcolman and devoid of suggestive association the region roundabout, that the pilgrim hither must perforce bring Spenser along in his heart, and build almost the entire fabric of life, home and haunts from his own loving fancy. Only one real and sweet thing is here which will always remain as if revealing the radiance of the poet's gentle presence. That is the near little river, Awbeg, the "Mulla" of his joyous verse; more joyous and melodious ever, as it sings of him who sung, on its sunny, beautious way to the Blackwater and the sea.

There is nothing more beautiful in all Ireland than Cork city, set in stone and terrace against her leafy heights, and the broadening river Lee, which, rising in the mystic depths of weird, wild, Gougane Barra, at the edge of Kerry, wanders through lovely glens and sunny vales to where the city and the tide meet, and then blending with the salt water, sweeps through the most glorious and picturesque estuary in the world, down past Queenstown to the sea. But this has been repeatedly told by word painters galore. My own secret longing led me first and last to,

"The groves of Blarney,
That look so charming
Down by the purlings
Of sweet silent brooks."

One hardly realizes that he is in Ireland while among these handsomely attired people who, seeking their suburban homes, throng the cars of the little railway leading from Cork along the sweet shores of a murmuring stream; and for the short four miles to Blarney, one almost feels he is again within the atmosphere of the clear-eyed, active, breezy and prosperous folk one always finds in American and London suburban railway travel. At the end of this little railway, and at the head of the valley through which it and the stream have run, in a tiny, pocket vale whose surface is almost level on either side to the edges of noble wooded bluffs, is the trifling hamlet of Blarney; and, not a stone's throw from the station, the gray old walls of its world-famous castle rise above the rich foliage of the sycamore groves, and the musical Blarney rivulet below. Altogether it is one of the sweetest and most restful spots you ever beheld.

Blarney is the original Irish form of Blarna, means a "little field," from Blar, a field, this name having been given the place from its location almost in the centre of the tiny vale-field, which was no doubt a source of rich harvests even under the rude forms of cultivation in vogue in most ancient times. As nearly as can be determined, the latter popular signification of the word—palavering, rhodomotade, glib, specious, pleading, or wheedling eloquence—originated in Lord Clancarty's often promising, when the prisoner of Sir George Carew, to "surrender his strong castle of Blarney," this very pile, "to the soldiers of the Queen, and as often inventing some smooth and palatable excuse for exonerating himself from his promise." But the place no doubt became world-famous through the celebrity of the verses beginning with the four lines above quoted, attributed by adepts in ballad literature both to Father Prout and Richard Alfred Milliken, the latter a former Cork attorney.

The castle itself was built in the fifteenth century by Cormack Mac Carthy, "the Strong," and the old coign-stone, the kissing of which conveys the magic power of "Blarney," according to popular legend, at least, is still intact. It is said that at one time it bore the inscription, "Cormack McCarthy fortis me fieri fecit, A. D. 1446." It is preserved and held in place by two iron girders between huge merlons of its northern projecting parapet, nearly a hundred feet from the ground. The ancient castellated pile now consists only of a lofty quadrangular keep, with a half-ruined tower, through which access is gained by winding stone stairs to the battlemented parapet above. Beneath the tower and keep are a number of wonderful dungeon cells, the most truly impressive of these I have found in any of the castle ruins of Ireland; while a cave of remarkable formation, but a few rods from the castle, permitted of subterranean ingress and egress in ancient times.

Once having gained the lofty parapet, you are among massive ivies, while many shrubs and young trees have shot out towards the sky from this strange eerie. Mosses and grasses have almost completely thatched the old ruin, and if you will wait until the chattering tourists have gone and the scolding daws with the gentle evening have come, you can, as I did in the grewsome and shadowy place, stealthily and unobserved grasp the iron girders, and, at the risk of breaking your neck, crane your head far out and downward, to give the sturdy old "Blarney Stone," a loud, resounding smack; and then grope your way through the echoing windings of the lonely tower to the dewy, blossom-strewn earth below.

Gladstone's Greatest Speech.

London Letter in New York Sun: Friends and foes alike are marvelling over the magnificent speech with which Mr. Gladstone brought the debate on the second reading of the home rule bill to a close, and over the matchless eloquence of its delivery. It was a far finer effort than the speech with which he introduced the bill a few weeks ago. It is, indeed, pronounced by competent opinion to be the greatest utterance of Mr. Gladstone's life both in matter and in manner. The moment he took the floor the great and grand old man seemed to feel that the climax of his life had come. His years dropped from him like a cloak. His voice was like a deep-toned bell, clear and clarion. Not for a moment did it fail him during the hour that he held the house under the absolute spell of his eloquence. Not a single oratorical arrow was absent from his quiver, and he used them all. Wit, satire, invective, logic, pleading, scorn and denunciation followed each other in overwhelming succession. Mr. Gladstone in oratorical passion is magnificent and terrible. Last night he was vengeance incarnate. Words that were blows fell upon his enemies with a fury that made the great gladiator seem something more than a human antagonist. At the same time it was a scene and a speech which makes it more evident than any previous event in his career that Mr. Gladstone at the present moment embodies greater power in personal leadership than any man of his time.

Proper Feeding of Baby is an Interesting Subject to the Mother.

Wise Mothers Use Lactated Food.

To the loving mother no subject is more interesting than the proper feeding of her darling baby. She knows that the little one's very life depends upon the character of food that is administered from day to day. Baby's digestive organs are not strong—and require a food that will not irritate or inflame the stomach, and that can be easily assimilated. Science has come to the aid of mothers and given them Lactated Food, which possesses all the nourishing elements that baby-life requires. This scientific food has been specially prepared as a substitute for breast milk when it fails or cannot be given in sufficient quantity. Thousands of mothers have testified strongly in favor of Lactated Food, and the best physicians approve of it and recommend it daily.

Lactated Food makes bright, hearty and happy babies, and brings to every home a peace and joy to mother and father that is unknown in homes where the common foods are used. Lactated Food needs but one trial to make it a family friend.

London's Traffic Census.

The New York Engineering News says: "The day census of traffic in the 'city' of London—the city proper being the central business district—shows 1,186,000 people and 92,000 vehicles entering, and 301,000 persons daily walk into the city. The population of the metropolis of London—or the entire area of London—was 4,211,056, in 1891, for an area of 74,692 acres. The city of London has an area of 688 acres, and a night population, in 1891, of only 37,894. The difference between the day and night census, as here given, show a daily traffic that is not even approached in any other city in the world. The metropolitan and city police districts of London cover 441,559 acres, and included a population in 1891 of 5,633,332.

A German Swindle.

A novel kind of swindle, quite as clever as any American bunco dodge, is reported from a small town in Germany. A man struggling along under a heavy burden suddenly stumbled and crashed through a plate glass store window. The proprietor of the store demanded payment. The porter said he had no money. Passers-by advised that he be searched. A 1000-mark note was found on him, which, he said, belonged to his employer. The storekeeper, however, deducted 100 marks for the value of his window, and handed 900 marks in change to the porter, who went away swearing and protesting. A little later the store-keeper discovered that the 100-mark note was spurious.

The Inventor of Melanite.

T Turpin, the inventor of the new explosive, melanite, bids fair to shortly involve many of the French Government officials and high officers in the French army in another scandal. About two years ago Turpin gave the secret of his explosive to the French Government. Shortly after this he sold it to foreign governments, for which he was convicted of treason and sentenced to five years imprisonment. Last week he was pardoned by President Carnot. Turpin now says that high officers have sold both melanite and its formula to foreign governments, and avows his intention of exposing the names of the guilty men.

THOSE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

With characteristic recklessness the Colonist asserts that "the number of children enrolled in the schools is, in this, as well as in every other country where a public school system is in operation, as good an index of the population, outside the census, as can be found." If this doctrine be applied to the statistics in British Columbia some rather strange results will be obtained. For instance, Cowichan has 230 school children, while Cariboo, Lillooet, East Kootenay and West Kootenay have only two hundred and forty-one among them, all told. Will the Colonist venture to assert that Cowichan has nearly as large a white population as these four districts? Its effrontery is great, but it is surely not equal to a contention so absurd. Again Victoria district has 397 school children and Esquimalt 148, while Yale has 543. Are we to believe the two former together have as large a white population as Yale? Yet that is the unavoidable conclusion if the Colonist's peculiar dictum is to be accepted. We need go no further in the way of showing the absurdity of offering this school children argument. Premier Davie and the Colonist must suppose all the people of the province to be as simple as school children if they expect it to have any weight. The Colonist's readers are intelligent enough to know that mining districts like parts of Yale, Cariboo and the Kootenays invariably have a much smaller proportion of children in their population than is to be found in an agricultural region. Miners and prospectors are seldom accompanied by large families. If the conditions under which the people live were the same, or nearly the same, all over the province, then there would be some basis for the Colonist's contention, but there is, in fact, a very wide divergence. If proper allowance is made for the difference in pursuits, it will be seen that the equality in the numbers of school children enrolled on the island and the mainland really indicates a considerably greater number of adults on the mainland. Therefore when the Colonist asks, "Do these figures lead to the conclusion that there is a large preponderance of white people on the mainland?" the answer, truthfully given, must be in the affirmative. The Times would most assuredly like to believe that the island's population is equal to that of the mainland, but the facts are plainly against such a belief. We repeat that the premier and the organ in introducing such arguments as this relating to the school children are only endeavoring to cause confusion, and this is far from being a laudable purpose.

At the fair grounds at Chicago, says an American contemporary, monopoly covers everything. The right to sell food and drink has been farmed out to those who charge the most extortionate prices, and no waiter will move without his "tip." Notice is served that the States having displays of fruit must not give the fruit away, since this would infringe the right of vendors. All the benches that were placed in the grounds some time ago have been removed, and the only chance for tired persons to sit down is to hire a stool at 10 cents for a limited period, or pay 75 cents an hour for a rolling chair. To the credit of the newspapers of Chicago, it must be said that one and all they are waging war on this greed and extortion. The Tribune has printed pages of matter, giving the names of persons and places notorious for extortionate methods; the Mail denounces the removal of the public benches from the park; the Post advises every self-respecting man and woman to take their luncheon basket with them and not be ashamed to flaunt economy, good sense and independence in the face of extortion; the Journal publishes bills showing that luncheon accounts that should only be 25 cents are $1.50, and those that should be no more than 50 cents often run up to $3.50. All the newspapers plead with the restaurateurs and others to suppress or moderate their greed, and not bring permanent disgrace on the name of Chicago.

The questions submitted by the Dominion Government to the Supreme Court in connection with the Manitoba school case are as follows:

(1) Is the appeal referred to in said memorial and petitions and asserted thereby such an appeal as is admissible by sub-section 3 of section 93 of the B. N. A. Act or by sub-section 22 of the Manitoba Act of 1870.

(2) Are the grounds set forth in the petitions and memorials such as may be subjects of appeal under the authority of the sub-section referred to.

(3) Does the decision of the provincial committee of the privy council in case of Barrett vs. City of Winnipeg dispose of or conclude the application for redress based on the contention that the rights of the Roman Catholic minority, which accrued to them after the union under the statutes of the province, have been interfered with by two statutes of 1890, complained of in said petitions of memorials.

(4) Does subsection 3 of section 93 of "The British North America Act" apply to Manitoba.

(5) Has His Excellency the Governor-General-in-Council power to make the remedial orders which are asked for in said memorials and petitions, assuming the material facts to be as stated therein.

(6) Did the acts of Manitoba, relating to education, passed prior to the session of 1890, confer on the minority a "right or privilege with respect to education," within the meaning of sub-section 2 of section 22, of "The Manitoba Act," or establish a "system separate or dissentient schools," within the meaning of sub-section 3 of section 93 of "The B. N. A. Act," if said section 93 be found to be applicable to Manitoba; and if so did the two acts of 1890 complained of affect the right or privilege of the minority in such manner as to warrant appeal thereunder to the Governor General-in-Council.

FITZHUGH LEE AND THE INDIAN

His College Athletics Did Him a Good Turn When He Needed Muscle.

"It was in the winter of 1860, at Camp Colorado, Texas," said Capt. Edward M. Hayes. "Our scouts reported a body of Indians that had massacred settlers and driven off their stock. Gen. Van Dorn—then Major, was in command. Governor Fitzhugh Lee was a lieutenant and I was a bugler. It was night and snowing hard. We started after them, made 18 miles that night, 50 miles the next day, and camped. It happened that the Indians we were pursuing had camped but three miles ahead of us.

"As I said it was very cold and the Indians had their blankets up over their heads, so they did not hear us, as the next day we came upon them suddenly, and they would not have discovered us until we would have been right on top of them had not one of the men accidentally discharged his revolver. We charged. The Indians scattered. There was a ridge of timber a few miles away. Two of the braves made for the timber. Gen. Lee and I pursued them. We killed one. We pursued the other fellow through the timber for several miles, his trail being visible in the snow. When we reached the open plain he had disappeared. We knew that he was hiding in one of the gulches. In a few minutes we had discovered his pony. Turning we saw him on the other side of an undulation in the prairie. As he reached the top of the divide he waved his shield and yelled defiance at us. We put after him, but could not find him in the ledges of rock. Lee then proposed that we separate, which we did.

"It seems that the Indian was about 30 feet from Gen. Lee at the time, hiding behind a ledge of rocks. As Lee came upon him he fired an arrow at him. Lee saw him in time to dodge, and the arrow went through his arm, breaking off. The Indian was a chief—a big, tall, powerful, muscular fellow over six feet in height. Gen. Lee was then a small man, but he is the bravest and pluckiest man in the city to-day. In a moment more they were locked in each other's arms in a death struggle. The general was carrying his revolver in his right hand. The Indian grasped the barrel and the weapon was discharged, but he was not hit. The pistol dropped to the ground. Lee knew that his only salvation was to hug the Indian, for the latter had his knife in his hand, and as they swayed to and fro packing the snow beneath their feet he was unable to plunge his knife in his adversary's body. I started to his recue, but did not dare to shoot as I advanced, as they were writhing so that I was afraid of killing my comrade.

"In another moment they were on the ground and Lee on top. As luck had it they fell near the revolver. In the second of time allowed Lee seized the revolver and discharged it, the ball going through the cheeks and mouth of the savage without even knocking out a tooth, for his mouth was open in a yell. In another second, however, the next ball crashed in his brain. As the general disengaged himself from the tight embrace of the savage and rose to his feet he shook himself and felt of his body to see whether he was wounded, for the knife had cut his coat. I was fearful lest he was injured, and asked him how he felt. He replied: 'Oh, I am all right; just getting my muscle up,' raising his arm as if he was tightening the biceps. 'When I went to college,' he continued, 'I used to be very fond of wrestling, and it came in very good service to-day. At the last moment I thought of the "Virginia back heel" trip, and down the redskin went.'"—Washington Star.

THE BODY RECOVERED.

Remains of Engineer Whyte Found—Visiting Newspaper Men.

Vancouver, May 15.—The body of Steven Whyte, engineer, killed at the recent railway accident at Seabird Bluff, was found on Sunday at Harrison River. An inquest will be held.

The steamship Empress of China will leave for the Orient at 7 this evening.

A party of 54 members of the Northwest Press Association will arrive this evening and will be entertained by the corporaton.

New Westminster won Saturday's lacrosse match by 4 to 3. The last goal was scored in the last minute, after play had been extended half an hour on account of a tie. The game was a poor one.

The opening ceremonies of the new Y. M.C.A. buildings will extend over Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

V., S. & N. W. R'y Affairs.

The committee appointed by the council to meet the directors of the Victoria, Saanich and New Westminster railway, and consider the affairs of the company, will probably report next Monday evening. They are now arranging to bring about the conference.

AMERICAN NEWS NOTES.

Daily Chronicle of Events in The Great Republic.

Danbury, Conn., May 15.—A number of wealthy citizens in this vicinity are mourning the loss of $40,000 invested in Utah silver mine stock. The company was started by New York capitalists, who invited intending stockholders to go to Utah to inspect the mines. Accordingly Judge Hough, Samuel C. Hoey and one or two others were sent west. They found things practically as represented, and as a result the capitalists were quite anxious to buy the stock. Judge Scott, Joseph Souldice, L. C. Holley, V. E. Barnum, Geo. Wakeman and several others put money into the scheme, and they have now learned that the mine has been attached for $15,000 and is practically worthless. It is believed that the mine was "salted."

Milwaukee, Wis., May 15.—It is expected that a run will be made on the Plankinton bank, on account of its implication in the F. A. Lappen failure. The belief is that the bank will pull through. The scene around the bank is one of activity, but there is no panic and no indication of one. The feeling among business men is one of security. P. D. Armour, of Chicago, one of the heaviest stockholders in the bank, is understood to have sent $1,000,000 in currency to the institution by express this morning. The Plankington estate, which is also largely interested in the bank, is also understood to have come to the rescue with a large amount of capital.

New York, May 15.—The New York Society of Cincinnatus celebrated Cincinnati day on Saturday evening by a banquet at Delmonico's, in which over 200 guests participated. Similar celebrations were held in other cities of the country, where the sons of Cincinnati are numerous.

Lafayette, Ind., May 15.—The motion for a new trial in the case of Peter J. Clark, who was convicted of participation in the opera house religious riot, and sentenced to four years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $2000, is before the circuit court to-day. The defendant has been at large on bail of $4000. One of the arguments cited in support of the motion is that the verdict was given out from the jury room during the night, and is in consequence invalid.

Chicago, May 13.—Forty thousand Germans are expected to turn out tomorrow at the dedication in Humboldt Park of the monument of Friz Reuter, the great Platt Deutsch poet. Prior to the exercises there will be a street parade of all representative societies. The orations will be delivered in English and German.

Washington, D.C., May 15.—The first of the 61 naval officers who will be retired during the administration of President Cleveland on account of the age limit is serving his last day in the ranks. This is Commodore Gillis. At midnight to-night he goes on the retired list. Five other officers will follow him during the balance of the year.

Cairo, Ill., May 15.—Two men, supposed to be those who robbed the Mobile and Ohio express car on the night of the 11th, were arrested at Barkley, Ky., and taken to Laeton last night. It is said they were tracked from the scene of the robbery to their hiding place by scraps of paper torn from the express packages.

Reading, Pa., May 15.—The names of the killed in the locomotive boiler explosion on Saturday are Levi Yocum, engineer; John Yocum, nephew of the engineer. Injured, Geo. Saltada, conductor, fatally; Grant Seller, seriously hurt; William Anspach, crossing watchman, fatally injured. The latter's daughter, Annie, aged 16, who had just brought her father's dinner, was also seriously and perhaps fatally injured. Isaac Beard, the front brakeman, was seriously injured. Several persons living a square away were hurt.

New York, April 15.—The Wall street Journal's special says: Two more were "hammered" to-day, Rushe and Seever, and more failures are pending. Dealers are making prices, while liquidators are preferred. A big Greek house which failed to pay up on Saturday is said to be $35,000 short. One broker squared his accounts, but other brokers returned the firm's checks. They have until Tuesday to arrange matters.

New York, May 15.—Henry Gebhardt, foreman for S. S. Halstein, furrier, at 589 Broadway, was shot dead at 7:30 this morning in front of 687 Broadway by August Warner, a former employee of Halstein. Warner then shot himself in the right temple and was taken to St. Vincent hospital, where he is dying. Gebhardt discharged Warner last Saturday.

Troy, N.Y., May 15.—Nehr and Carpenter, eastern managers for the Northwestern Guarantee Loan Company, of Minneapolis, this morning made a general assignment and closed their doors. Two million dollars of $16,000,000 worth of debenture bonds recently issued by the Northwestern Guarantee Loan Company has been disposed of to people in this city and vicinity through the eastern managers.

ROASTED CHICKENS.

Serious Loss to a Breeder—Body Found in the River.

New Westminster, May 15.—The members of uniform rank K. of P. go to Vancouver on Thursday to assist the brethren of that city to form a body guard for the Lieutenant-Governor.

Ald. Pearson's chicken hatching establishment caught fire last night at 12 o'clock, it is thought by the bursting of a lamp in an incubator. The building and several hundred chickens were burned. The firemen had all their attention taken up in saving A. McDonald's residence next door.

Mr. Justice Walkem is expected to preside at the assizes on June 7th. There are three murder cases, the May Todhuter, Prittendrigh and Marshall.

The body of a man has been found in the river near Ashcraft. It is believed to be that of either the engineer or brakeman drowned at the Seabird accident near Seabird bluff a few weeks ago.

Death of Mong Kow's Child.

Mong Kow, interpreter at the custom house and for the C. P. R., mourns the loss of his little daughter. The baby was only three months old, and died on Thursday from complications following a cold. The funeral took place on Saturday.

BENEFITS OF FORESTRY.

Some of the Advantages to be Gained by Membership.

At Victoria West last Friday evening, May 12th, the fourth court for this city of the Independent order of Foresters, consisting of 29 charter members, was instituted by Captain Holden, D.S.C.R., assisted by D.S.C.R. George A. Grant, C.D.S.C. Rangers R. C. Douglas and J. H. Falconer, and Bros. Major Wilkins and McEachern. The insurance in the above court in the amounts taken out by the several members represents $40,000, payable to their families or heirs at death. In case a member becomes permanently disabled he receives immediately one-half the amount of his insurance. Members living to old age, 70 years, receive an annuity of $100, $200 or $300 according to the amount for which they are insured, and continue to draw this amount each year until they draw out the amount of their policy, should they live to do so, otherwise the balance will be paid to their beneficiaries. Or members living to reach their expectation of life may receive the amount of their policy in full should they enrol for the "special endowment benefit." Besides the above and the fraternal and social benefits which an order like the I. O. F. gives its members, each secures for himself free medical attendance, and by the arrangement of the several courts of this city, is also supplied with medicine without charge and a surgical operation if required. The order also gives its members sick benefits of $3 to $5 per week from the first day's illness, to which they are entitled immediately after passing the medical board, and on death, $50 will be paid towards funeral expenses.

An encampment of Royal Foresters, a uniformed rank, will be formed about the 24th of May; immediately afterwards a court of Juvenile Foresters will be started in this city. Arrangements are now being made for the instituting of a High Court for the province of British Columbia in June or early in July this year.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN AGREEMENT.

A Protected Zone in Russian Waters Has Been Decided Upon.

The following telegram, which explains itself, was received in the city on Saturday:

Ottawa, May 13, 1893.

To A. R. Milne, Collector of Customs, Victoria:

Referring to my telegram of March 10th and Mr. Parmelee's of March 17th, I have now to advise that English and Russian governments have agreed to prohibit sealing vessels from fishing within ten miles of the Russian coast and within thirty miles of Robbin island and the Commander islands during the present year. Warn sealers to observe this prohibition, communicating with those who have already sailed whenever possible. Give copies of this to officer commanding Her Majesty's ships at Esquimalt. (Signed)

WILLIAM SMITH,
Deputy Minister Marine.

The collector has mailed copies of the telegram to the British consuls at the several ports in Japan. They will go forward immediately on the Empress. He also forwarded a copy of the message to Capt. Hughes-Hallett, of H.M.S. Garnet.

The Assizes.

The spring assizes opened this morning before Sir Mathew Baillie Begbie, C.J. The docket is a very light one, consisting of only the following cases: Reg. vs. Parrish, larceny and obtaining money under false pretences; Reg. vs. Roberts, forgery and obtaining money under false pretences; Reg. vs. Charlie Ah Sing, perjury; Reg. vs. James Seaton and Arthur Seaton, larceny of distrained goods. The names of the Grand Jurors are: Edward White (foreman), James Burns, Jas. Baker, H. Myers Yates, Geo. Bishop, Jesse M. Cowper, Robert Erskine, Thomas S. Butler, Andrew Gray, Anton Henderson, John B. Lovell, Edward Pearson, Samuel T. Styles, John Turner, Ridgeway Wilson, John Wilson.

The Chief Justice briefly addressed the Grand Jury, explaining the nature of their functions as regarded the present assizes and other matters not connected therewith. There were not, he said, many cases to go before them and this was due to two enactments of comparatively recent date, namely, the Summary Jurisdiction Act, which allowed magistrates to try certain offences summarily, and the Speedy Trials Act, which required the sheriff to bring a prisoner committed for trial before a judge within 24 hours to elect whether he wished to be tried by a judge or by a jury. There were in the present cases no offences against the person; they could not be called very heinous or violent crimes. After the charge to the jury the court adjourned for one hour and at 1 o'clock the Grand Jury returned, having found a true bill against Parrish and Roberts. The other cases will be considered during the afternoon.

REG. VS. PARRISH.

This was the first case called, but the defendant, though called three times, did not appear. He was allowed out on bail some time ago, and it is probable that his bail will be estreated and a bench warrant issued for his arrest.

REG. VS. ROBERTS.

The next case, that of Regina against Roberts, was then proceeded with. The prisoner pleaded not guilty to the two charges against him, and the trial is now going on. Mr. A. G. Smith, D.A.G., appears for the Crown, and Mr. Wooton for the defence.

REG. VS. SEATON.

James Seaton and Arthur Seaton, who were on Saturday committed for trial by Stipendiary Magistrate Macrae, were to-day taken before the Chief Justice to elect the mode of trial. As the assizes are being held they elected to be tried before a judge and a jury. Mr. Lindley Crease appears for the defence.

Sewer Pipe.

Now is the time to make house connections and ward off all contagious diseases before it is too late. The B. C. Pottery Co. keep the largest and best assortment of pipes and fittings, made by white skilled labor. They sell the only vitrified salt glazed pipe in the market. Pronounced A1 by competent sanitary engineers. We also keep constantly on hand an unsurpassed quality of fire brick. Encourage home industry. B. C. Pottery and Terra Cotta Co., corner Government and Broughton streets.

To Entertain Visitors.

Court Bannockburn, I.O.F., will not meet on Wednesday evening, the meeting having been adjourned until the evening of the 24th, when there will be a concert and social dance. Visiting Foresters will be entertained.

Don't Hurry

But be in time and have your pick of the 40c. flannelette blouses that are being offered at the Lansdowne House, 86 Yates street.

A Contradiction.

A letter from Chief of Police Charles H. Hunt of Portland, in reply to an inquiry from a gentleman in Victoria regarding certain rumors in circulation about P. F. Richardson says "the statements made are false."

Physical Culture and Dancing.

Miss McMicking's term classes in physical culture and dancing close on Tuesday evening next, the 16th inst., with a bal poudre at St. James Hall, James Bay, commencing at 8 o'clock. Visitors' tickets, 50 cents. Children under 12, half price. m13-3t.

A Request for Information.

On Saturday Collector Milne received a second cablegram from Paris asking for information for the British counsel before the arbitration. The matter is of course private, but it will be comforting to the sealers to know that the case is being ably managed.

A Deserved Promotion.

Captain R. Foster, late first officer of the steamer Islander, has been appointed captain of the C. P. R. Company's Kootenay Lake steamers. He leaves for the interior in a few days. His position on the Islander has been filled by the former first officer of the City of Nanaimo.

The Arion Glee Club Concert.

The Arion Male Voice Glee Club concert at Institute Hall on View street on Wednesday evening gives promise of being a very enjoyable affair. Miss Heathfield, soprano, and Mr. Nash, violin soloist, will assist the club. A large number of invitations for the affair have been issued.

Funeral of Miss Shore.

The funeral of Miss Emily Shore, who died in Jubilee Hospital on Saturday, took place from the residence of her brother, Sidney Shore, 138 Chatham street, this afternoon. Services were held at St. John's church at 3 o'clock. The deceased was a daughter of Frederick Shore, of London, England.

The 'Frisco Boats.

The steamer City of Puebla sailed from the outer wharf yesterday morning for San Francisco. The only cabin passengers from Victoria were: H. H. Nagle, Charles Strong, E. S. Hill and Miss J. Boyd. There were more passengers for Victoria on the Walla Walla which arrived on Saturday than there were for all the other Sound cities.

VictoriaBuilding Society Drawing.

The Victoria Building Society held its 32nd drawing in Sir William Wallace Hall on Saturday evening. The drawing committee consisted of Messrs. J. Holland, W. W. Northcott and J. Leonard. No.'s 242, A B C and D, were winners. The certificates are held, A and B by Mrs. Eva Templeman, C and D by Mr. Wm. Templeman. This makes $111,000 drawn for by the society so far, $103,000 of which is out on mortgage.

Another Cargo of Coolies.

The steamer Danube returned from Vancouver this morning, having on board 505 Chinamen from the Empress of China who are to be taken to Portland. The 400 odd Chinamen who were refused a landing at Portland last week were placed on board the China to be taken back home. They will be closely watched to see that none of them attempt to land. Captain Meyers expects to have the same trouble, with the exception of the libelling, with the present batch of Chinamen that he had with the last.

With Corbett's Company.

Dagmar and DeCelle, two remarkably clever Danish warblers, are at present appearing in the Madison Square roof garden scene in the third act of Champion James J. Corbett's play of "Gentleman Jack," which will appear at the Victoria Theatre next Thursday night. During the brief 15 minutes that they appear upon the stage they change costumes half a dozen times and render songs of various nationalities, and execute trills and warbles that are claimed to be among the most taking and novel things ever presented by any specialty performers.

Two Remarkable Vessels.

Messrs. Edwards Brothers, photographers, Vancouver, are issuing a Columbian year souvenir of a novel description. It is a phototype showing in the foreground the old steamer Beaver on the rocks at the narrow and dangerous entrance to Burrard Inlet, and in the left centre, sailing along under half sail, the caravel of Columbus, the Santa Maria. The vessel of Columbus, as being the first European craft to come within sight of the new world, and the steamer Beaver as being the first steamship to enter the Pacific ocean, possess very great interest, and with the view of contrasting the famous vessels and providing an elegant souvenir picture, Messrs. Edwards Bros. have undertaken the production of the neat little photo now on sale.

The Release of the Henrietta.

A Washington dispatch of Friday last says: "Attorney-General Olney said today that he had issued no instructions to the district attorney at Sitka, Alaska, as to abandoning the prosecution of the British schooner Henrietta, libelled for a violation of the modus vivendi. Instructions to that effect, however, were given by Attorney-General Miller on the 25th of February last, and as they had not been revoked they were still in force. Attorney-General Olney declined to say whether or not he would take any further action in the case." This is very consoling to the owners of the Henrietta. Nearly three months ago, in the dying hours of the Harrison administration, Attorney-General Miller issued the order for her release. The order lay on the file in his office to be resurrected by his successor. Mr. Olney is cleaning up the work before him. He forwarded the order to the collector at Sitka and by good luck the owners will get their vessel by the fall. Likely as not she has received little or no care and may come back useless like other returned schooners. The owners have lost the use of their schooner for the sealing season of 1893.

The Only Fault.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company has issued a fine new folder containing full information for the World's Fair visitor as well as the tourist who wishes to see the Yellowstone and Alaska. There is only one fault to find with it. It calls nature's magnificent monument at the head of Puget Sound, named Rainier over one hundred years ago by Englishmen, Mount Tacoma instead of its proper name. However the folder is a fine one.

Council Meeting To-Night.

The city council will meet to-night in regular session. Monday night is now the regular meeting night, as provided by Ald. Henderson's by-law, which is now in effect, having been properly advertised.

Spent Sunday here.

A party of 30 ladies and gentlemen, making the "Pennsylvania tour to the Golden Gate," arrived in the city on Saturday and left for the Sound last evening. The party was in charge of Thos. Purdy, while Miss B. C. Bingham acted as chaperon.

Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises of the winter term of Miss McMicking's juvenile classes in physical culture and dancing will be held at St. James Hall, James Bay, to-morrow evening. The children who are to take part have all been well trained and the exercises will be very pretty.

The Observance of Sunday.

Ald. W. D. McKillican has a notice on the board at the city hall announcing that he proposes to ask leave to introduce a by-law "respecting the observance of the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday." The by-law will, it is understood, cover what was petitioned for by a majority of the barbers of the city.

Stereopticon Exhibition.

Mr. Noah Shakespeare has received a number of new slides that will be shown at the exhibition in the Centennial Sunday school this evening. The new slides contain scenes of the result of the recent Japanese earthquakes and are both interesting and instructive. The "Trip Around the World," which was to have been given on Wednesday evening, has been postponed on account of Dr. Carman's lecture.

Into New Offices.

Messrs. Joshua Davies & Co., auctioneers, to-day moved into their fine new offices in the Board of Trade building. The firm will be ready for business almost immediately, and the sale of Kaslo property will open on Thursday morning bright and early. The new offices are in every way vastly superior to those just vacated by Messrs. Davies & Co., and not the least among the advantages secured is the central location of the rooms.

The Question to be Tested.

The right of the artillerymen to use Clover Point as a rifle range is to be speedily settled. To make a test of the matter Messrs. Ben. Williams and A. R. Langley have been summoned to appear in the Police Court on Wednesday to answer the charge of shooting within the city limits. Chief Sheppard said this morning that while a permit to shoot at Clover Point was granted by the last council, none has been granted this year, but he says the council can grant no one permission to violate the law. The outcome of the case will be watched with interest by both the police and the militiamen.

He Knew What to Steal.

As Constables Mount and McKay were on their way home from their night's duty at 5 o'clock yesterday morning they overhauled Ah Sam, an old acquaintance of the police, at the corner of Fisgard and Blanchard streets. Ah Sam had a sack on his shoulder, and when called to halt dropped the bundle and bolted. He was easily caught and was locked up. The sack contained 50 pounds of potatoes, which, considering the present state of the market, are almost worth their weight in silver. There was no one to identify the potatoes, so the case went over until Wednesday. The sack is marked "M."

High Priestess of Theosophy.

Mrs. Annie Besant, the successor of Madame Blavatsky in the leadership of theosophists, and now making a lecture tour of the North American continent, will visit Victoria about the middle of June, and will deliver a lecture upon the subject of theosophy, under the auspices of the Victoria Theosophical Society. However much many people may differ with Mrs. Besant in her beliefs and ideas, all who have heard her speak agree that she is marvellously gifted as a public speaker. Her command of language is wonderful. She speaks in clear tones, which, though soft and womanly, reach to the limits of the largest halls and are heard distinctly. Mrs. Besant is one of the remarkable women of the century.

More Smuggling by Correspondents.

Here is a special from Port Townsend to the up-Sound papers: "Another smuggling steamer made a successful voyage across from Victoria Friday night and landed over 30 Chinese on the shores of Puget Sound. The vessel returned to British waters without being detected, although the revenue cutter and two or three steam launches were patrolling the lower Sound all night. The exact locality where the Chinese were landed is unknown. The steamer left Victoria at dark loaded with Mongolians who had been refused a landing at Portland and by Collector Wasson. They came across the straits in a well-known Victoria steamer, capable of making 17 knots an hour, and were landed at some unknown point. A telegram from Victoria to-day conveyed the intelligence that the steamer returned to that port at daylight this morning minus her cargo of Chinese."

The Chinese refused admission to Tacoma and Portland never put foot on British soil when they returned. The Mogul and Victoria had landed their full quota of passengers here and inspectors guarded her till she left. The Danube on her return from Portland did not even dock here, but was under orders from Collector Milne, who had a squad of officers to guard her. She brought back 412 Chinese, and that number from her leave on the Empress to-day. Collector Milne and his deputies furnish a good example to their American neighbors. All the 17 knot boats were here too on Friday night.

PROPOSED WATER RATES.

Commissioner Wilmot's Report on the City's Water System.

HOW HE PROPOSES TO CHARGE

Householders, Occupants of Buildings and Landlords to be Charged for the Amount of Water they Use—To be Considered by the Council.

At the last meeting of the council Water Commissioner Wilmot presented a report dealing with the present water service and the proposed system of water rates. It is as follows:

City Hall, Victoria, May 10th, 1893.

To His Worship the Mayor and Board of Aldermen:

Gentlemen:—In accordance with the provisions of section 13 of the Victoria water works act, 1892, and section 4 of amendment to said act, 1892, I have the honor to submit for your consideration the accompanying schedule of assessments and rates proposed to be collected for the Victoria water works.

The total length of mains, four inches in diameter and greater, laid within the limits of the city, according to the annual reports of the corporation of the city of Victoria, aggregate 155,100 feet, from which, if we deduct 30 per cent. for street crossings, and take corner lots at half their frontage, we have a frontage on the streets along which pipes four inches in diameter and greater are laid of 108,570 feet on each side of the street. Estimating half the frontage as vacant and assessed at six cents per foot per annum would give ..... $ 6,514.20
Property on which there are buildings at 4 cents..... 4,342.80

Estimated revenue from this source $10,857.80
Derivable from other sources—
Services..... $ 3,000.00
Water rents and rates..... 40,000.00
Water rents by meters..... 13,500.00
$56,500.00
Assessments as above..... 10,857.00

Total revenue..... $67,357.00

Say $67,000.00, or an increase over that of last year, which was $54,840.66, of about $12,000.00.

The following is an approximate estimate of the amount that should be yearly collected in order to make the water works self-sustaining and allowing for extending the works to keep up with the growth of the city, taking the business of last year as a basis:

Maintenance and superintendence $16,500.00
Extension of works, say..... 10,000.00
Interest and sinking fund..... 34,000.00

Total $60,500.00
Estimated surplus..... 6,500.00

As will be observed, two methods for rating houses are submitted. The first provides for levying a rate in proportion to the size of the house, the second a fixed rate per house.

The former method is adopted by the city of Oakland, and has been recently adopted by the city of New Westminster. The revenue that would be derived from it would, I consider, be greater than that from the latter method, but just how much it would be impossible to say without getting the sizes of all the houses in the city. The second method would, I consider, give a revenue a little larger than is obtained from that now in force, and would adjust the cost of water more equitably among consumers in proportion to the quantity they used.

The detailed rates proposed are based on those in use in a number of other cities, and are considerably lower than the rates of any city on the Pacific coast of which I have seen any record.

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
R. A. WILMOT.
City Engineer and Water Commissioner.

VICTORIA WATER RATES.

Sec. 1. In all cases where a main pipe four inches in diameter or over is or shall be laid in any street in the city of Victoria a special water rate of six cents per foot frontage per annum shall be assessed and levied upon all vacant lots, except corner lots, on each side of the portion of said street in which said pipe or pipes shall from time to time be laid. In case any of such lots are corner lots, then such corner lots shall only be assessed at one-half the said rate.

Sec. 2. A special water rate of four cents per foot frontage per annum shall be assessed and levied upon all lots other than vacant lots, except corner lots on each side of the portion of the said street in which said pipe or pipes shall from time to time be laid. In case any such lots are corner lots, then such lots shall only be assessed at one-half of the said rate.

SCHEDULE OF MONTHLY RATES.

Sec. 3. For houses or tenements occupied by a single family, and public or private buildings (not including water for baths, water closets, urinals, or for use outside of the house, tenement or building) covering an area of—

Square Ft.	1 Story	2 Stories	3 Stories

Each additional	0.10
One water closet (private)	0.25
Each additional	0.15
Urinal	0.20

Hose for irrigating lawns, gardens or grounds, per month, 50 cents, or in lieu of above one cent per 100 square feet, provided no monthly charge will be less than 25 cents.

If water is used for watering lawns, gardens or grounds at other than times specified, then 50 cents additional for each information.

Water supplied for any or all other purposes not otherwise embraced in this schedule shall be charged by estimate or by special agreement. In lieu of all other rates supplied by meter at the rate of 20 cents per 1,000 gallons, but no monthly meter bill shall be less than $1.50 exclusive of meter rent.

The foregoing rates shall be due on the last day of each month.

Sec. 5. In the event of non-payment of water rates within 30 days after they become due, the water commissioner or his agent may shut off the water from the premises of the consumer in arrears until payment is made of the amount due, with one dollar in addition for the expense of turning the water off and on.

Any person vacating any premises that have been supplied with water from the city mains, or who wishes to discontinue the use thereof for a period of not less than one month, must give one week's notice of the same to the commissioner in writing, otherwise he will be liable for the rent thereof.

Sec. 6. Upon the receipt of an application from the owner or owners or occupant of any premises for the introduction of water the service pipe will be provided and laid by the city from the main to the line of the street, for which a charge of $10 will be made, payable in advance, for a half-inch connection, $15 for three-quarter inch connection, $20 for one inch connection, $30 for one and one-half inch connection, and $50 for a four inch connection.

All service pipes upon the premises of consumers must be laid at least to a depth of 18 inches below the surface of the ground, and must be provided with a stop and waste cock protected from frost, by means of which the service pipes in the building and premises may be drained to prevent damage from frost.

All consumers must keep their service pipes, stop cocks and other fixtures on their premises in good repair and order at their own expense.

Before connection is made with the street main the applicant must show to the satisfaction of the commissioner, or foreman in charge of the works, that the pipe and plumbing connected therewith within his premises is laid in accordance with the requirements of said commissioner or foreman.

Where more than one house or premises are supplied through one service between the main and the street line, the service pipe must be so arranged that the supply to each separate house or premises can be controlled by a separate cock placed within and near the street line.

Premises owned by different proprietors must have a separate service for each consumer.

A NEW PROFESSION.

A Method by Which Rich and Stupid People May Become Famous.

(New York Herald.)

"What does that young man do?" The reporter pointed out a well-dressed young gentleman who is frequently seen about the Fifth avenue Hotel. He never seems to have any particular business, has no property and apparently no legitimate source of income; yet he is liberal in a small way, goes among men a great deal and is rather popular.

"Why, he is a glorifier," was the reply.

"A w-h-a-t?"

"A 'glorifier'—a private glorifier—corresponds to the position of private secretary —to Mr. ——,' naming a swell clubman. "So you have never heard of the business of making men famous? I know you newspaper men do that sort of thing for nothing, but not always in a manner satisfactory to the object of your attentions. But the professional glorifier does it for a salary. There are a lot of ambitious men in this city who have private glorifiers on their pay roll. A good many glorify themselves, though a man who is addicted to that is always a bore. He soon runs himself out of any circle. The shrewdest society men now hire glorifiers. The glorifier who is bright and gentlemanly, who can tell a good story, is a good dresser, a good judge of wines and all that sort of thing, has the softest nap in New York. With these qualifications and a little ready cash he will be received anywhere, almost, for his own sake. His employer is stupid and rich. He is smart and poor. So they work together. The employer's business is to furnish the money and the introductions. The glorifier's business is to insidiously advance his patron in the general esteem. If he is at a supper he can mention how his friend Smith takes his champagne. He tells a good story, incidentally giving credit to his friend Smith.

"In a circle of ladies he will paint the brightest picture of Smith's character, his favorite authors, his wonderful knack at rhymes, his hidden charities, his genius for story-telling, his love for his mother, etc. Next to the merely casual way in which this is done his chief skill is in bringing forward the particular traits of character most admired by those whom he wishes to impress. It is astonishing how this goes. The glorifier will occasionally find some one who will frankly tell him that Mr. Smith was never known to exhibit any of these traits to other people, but it goes with most of us who haven't time to make closer investigations. Mr. Smith is received as a sort of lion. The more stupid he is and the less he says the better. Let him only listen to other people and he will be great. When he does choose to say anything his word will be law. The glorifier is seldom paid a stated salary. He is merely handsomely supported and occasionally 'staked'; but he lives off the fat of the land. He is nothing new. He always existed in some form."

Memory of Mail Clerks.

A writer in the Philadelphia Record says: The railway postal clerks have a unique method of learning the routes on which postoffices are located. Take, for example, the state of Pennsylvania, in which there are over 5000 offices. The prospective mail distributer buys a quantity of blank cards—about the size of the ordinary visiting card—and on each of these he writes the name of an office. On the back of the card he writes the route by which the office is served with its mail. Taking in hand a pack of these cards—say from fifty to 100—he goes over them one after another studiously, looking at the back each time and getting the name and route clearly associated in his mind. The second time he goes through the pack he finds that he knows the half of the routes by reading the name of the office. It is a dull student who, upon going over a pack of cards a dozen times, does not know them thoroughly. The method is so simple and such an aid to memorize that it is adopted by all mail clerks. By it clerks have been known to memorize a state like Pennsylvania inside of two months. On all large routes clerks work but half time, the other half being devoted to rest and study. The mail clerk at home, continually reminded of coming examinations, carries his cards wherever he goes, conning them over at every opportunity. One demonstrative clerk on the New York and Pittsburg R. P. O. is famed for having learned the state of Ohio in four days. As he shuffled over his cards he walked from garret to cellar and vice versa, from dawn until the shades of twilight fell. On the fourth day he went to the examiner's office and separated Ohio without an error. It is related that the wife of a postal clerk adopted the card method for increasing her vocabulary in French. On one side of the cards she wrote the French word and on the other the English equivalent to be learned. Another lady, hearing of this, used the same system successfully for learning mythology, placing the word "Mars," for instance, on one side of the card and "war" on the other. The method has so many advantages over the old and tedious way of learning from the pages of a book that it might be utilized with advantage by teachers in search of new methods of imparting instruction.

Have the Newspapers Done It?

Is it the newspapers or the theatres that have changed the character of provincial amusements? Lectures are not very popular in small towns any more, because the people are pretty well informed by the papers on topics that lectures used to treat. The rustics hear much of plays and farces and want to see them. The old panoramas, containing half a mile of painted canvas," the old dioramas, with moving figures, seem to have lapsed into desuetude.

The skeptic and doubter of truth and reality, may loudly assert that our statements and claims are boastful and unfounded. Well, at times we are inclined to express our pity for that poor mortal —the skeptic. We realize the fact that the majority of them have minds and souls so dwarfed, that they even deny the existence of a supreme Being. The world can never suffer much from their being allowed the privilege of sitting in the seats of the scorners and unbelievers.

It is pleasing to know that the millions of sensible beliving men and women in our broad Dominion have accepted every statement publicly made in favor of Paine's Celery Compound, that great healer and life-giver of our time.

An array of testimony, strong, truthful and incontrovertible, has been sent in to the proprietors of the great medicine in no stinted measure. Every testimonial emphatically declares that Paine's Celery Compound cures; many assert that without it they would have gone to the grave.

We have heard our clergymen, lawyers and doctors speak strongly in favor of Paine's Celery Compound; and the public speak of it as mankind's benefactor. No wonder they do so, its marvellous cures astonish the world, and great minds are forced to investigate this most wonderful of all prescriptions given to the world by a physician.

Reader, this life-giving prescription is for you, if you need strength, vigor and new life; you must use it if you wish to banish disease and pain; no other medicine can do the same great work for you; and remember well that you are deceived and misled if you allow others to recommend you something else. Paine's Celery Compound is what you want at this time; we strongly advise a trial in order to convince you that the thousands who have testified have done so for your personal benefit.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

Animated Discussion on the Question of "Invitations."

RULED OUT BY THE SUPERINTENDENT

It is a Matter Which Only the General Conference Can Deal With—Missionary Salaries in Kamloops District—Presentation to a Pioneer Minister.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.

Rev. Joseph Hall opened the conference by announcing the 441st hymn. Rev. Robt. R. Maitland read the scriptures for the day, and Revs. A. E. Green and J. Calvert led in prayer.

After the adoption of the voluminous mass of yesterday's records, Rev. Dr. George, minister of Grace M. E. church of Seattle, Wash., was introduced to the president and by him to the conference, and he was received with applause. He expressed his delight at being in New Westminster and also to look into the faces of his ministerial brethren. He richly enjoyed the addresses of the brethren at the public missionary meeting last night and was much inspired by those soul-stirring addresses. He extended a very cordial invitation to any member of the British Columbia Methodist conference to visit the Puget Sound conference, which meets in Seattle next fall. As he was planned to address the ordination class this evening he would not now take up the time of the conference.

The report of the committee on conference memorials was called for, and after being read it was resolved to discuss its various clauses seriatim. The first clause refers to the now notorious circular letter sent out by the board of the New Westminster Central church, condemning "circuit invitations," and which petition was referred to the conference from the meeting of the New Westminster district.

The memorial committee did not make any recommendation, so the resolution of the New Westminster church itself was called for. In substance it is as follows: "Resolved, that we ask the district meeting to take action to discourage the practice of giving direct invitation to ministers from the Q. O. B.'s.

A resolution bringing the matter before the conference for immediate discussion was enthusiastically carried and a great variety of opinion was expressed as to the proper course to be pursued. The tangle was finally straightened out by Dr. Carman, and Mr. David Robinson of New Westminster moved the following amendment, which was seconded by Rev. J. W. Winslow.

Whereas, the plan of the itinerancy in the Methodist church, aiming to secure the wisest distribution of the ministerial labor within the bounds of the conference and a periodic change of pastors, is based on the mutual surrender, by the people and pastors, of their rights in regard to the choice of laborer or field into the hands of a committee expressly appointed for this purpose by the joint vote of laymen and ministers;

And whereas, the discipline of the Methodist church provides specifically for the presentation to the stationing committee on the views of the Q. O. boards or ministers interested in the particular appointments;

And whereas, there has grown up a practice of boards and ministers entering into negotiations directly with each other with the object of securing certain appointments and giving and accepting invitations without the consent of the stationing committee;

And whereas, this practice has a tendency to encourage a spirit of self-seeking among congregations and ministers and occasional serious embarrassment to the stationing committee, whose work it has forestalled, and is a source of danger to the peace and fraternity of our church; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the opinion of this conference the practice of giving and receiving invitations otherwise than through the stationing committee ought to be discontinued by our churches and ministers, and that while giving due attention to proper representations made by the boards in conformity with the provisions of the discipline, the stationing committee should hereafter refuse to consider any negotiations or invitations carried on or given directly between ministers and churches.

Mr. D. Robson spoke in support of his resolution before the vote was called. He would like to correct misapprehensions about this question. The report was abroad that there were ulterior motives behind this resolution. He begged to state that such was not the case. This famous resolution was moved by himself in the Westminster central board in opposition to a motion to invite a minister to the church. The board of this church had expressed a wish then to test the feelings of the boards throughout the conference. Copies of the resolution had been sent out and replies received from all quarters. Thirteen boards in the province had approved the resolution and four had disapproved, but he felt sure that those who had disapproved had entirely failed to catch the meaning of the Westminster resolutions. The discipline of our church, he said, makes a provision for such arrangements as this resolution proposes to bring about. He could not say that he regarded the invitation system practised by some of the boards as not a good thing for the general interests of the churches throughout the conference. He remembered a statement made by a young minister after being for the first time on the stationing committee, that half of the men there had wires to pull for themselves. Whether this is true or not he could not say, but if such were the case he thought it was a great pity. He felt sure that the practices in vogue in some quarters now were not after the wish of the founders of Methodism and he would counsel them to carefully examine the ground on which we stand. He sat down amid a round of applause.

Rev. J. W. Winslow followed in support of the motion. He felt deeply on the question and was assured the conference was susceptible to the truth more than to argument. The invitation system is extra disciplinary, and the ministers who accept the system are dominated by a worldly principle, which is creeping into the church. For this conference the system is especially injurious, and is in contravention of the standing rule of the conference, which is published from year to year in the minutes. There is a disciplinary provision made in the discipline answering the real needs of every case. This provision was put in the laws of the church for the very purpose of preventing wire-pulling and self-seeking by the ministers to get the best places. He thought the wisdom of a select number, such as the stationing committee, was more to be trusted than the judgment of ministers and churches. This practice is tending to develop selfishness, and selfishness is regarded as a grave falling. It promotes the practice of looking for the best fields and cramps the charitable interest that should be taken by all in every part of the work.

The debate was continued by W. J. Nicholls of Vancouver. He felt the importance of the question and asked that it be dealt with cautiously lest it work mischief. He regarded this resolution as tending to take away what had long been considered a privilege, one which has grown since the days of John Wesley. There are many accepted principles in our constitution which were not in the earlier laws. Speaking in reply to the suggestion of Divine guidance sought for by the stationing committee, he said the boards also ask the same before they invite, and what is for one is for all. He could point to almost all of the other bodies and show how practically the "call" system is in vogue, and among other bodies where it does not exist he knew many appointments which were chafing under undesirable appointees. This practice has not for its purpose the hindering of the committee's work, but the helping of it. It is in vogue in England, the mother of Methodism, and also in eastern Canada. Why should we be deprived of the same privileges here? As an official of the church he claimed he was able to judge who would be suitable appointees. In some cases, if some men were sent, the whole work would go to smash. This resolution proceeds from only one particular board in the province, while it had been repudiated by the district in which this board belongs. He asked the council to pause before taking active steps in tampering with the feelings of the people.

Mr. Eli Higgins, of Vancouver, supported the resolution. He had been for some 25 years in touch with the work of the Methodist church. He cited a very extreme case which he reported took place in Ontario, where the stationing committee sent a man to an appointment in opposition to the wishes of the people, and he was the best man they ever had. He thought it a shame that ministers were not willing to trust themselves in the hands of the stationing committee.

Mr. D. Spencer also spoke to the resolution. He counselled fair treatment, and asked the conference to look all around the question. He thought the boards who invite are quite as honest and conscientious when giving an invitation, and he claimed that they ought to be as well able to judge of their needs as the stationing committee. For his own part he was willing to refer the whole matter to the stationing committee, but that would not stop the practice. The boards would not be governed by the dictum of this conference. He said this practice has grown out of many wrong appointments made by the stationing committee. He repudiated the statement that ministers with a worldly spirit are the ones who get invitations. The very reverse is the case. The best men are invited. The only way to heal up this difficulty is to change the constitution of the stationing committee and give equal lay representation.

Mr. J. N. Tuttle favored the amendment moved by Mr. D. Robson. While he appreciated the satisfaction enjoyed by boards and ministers in following this system, we ought to look at the greatest possible good to all. In some instances it is no doubt the case that certain men are best for certain places, but the laws of our church make ample provision for these cases. The practice of inviting embarrasses the committee.

Rev. C. Watson said he did not care to speak to the question, because it did not make much difference which way the vote goes; but he objected to the sweeping assertions made charging the invited ministers with selfishness. Suppose he should offset that by saying that those who opposed invitations were actuated by selfishness, what then? He would not make any such charge, but why should he not, if other charges were made? Both would be simply gratuitous assertions. This conference has no power to legislate on the question. They might force a question to a vote which affects individual rights. Mr. Robson's resolution said that the principle was subversive of the principles of Methodism. That is a simple assertion and he could contradict it. To strike at the privilege enjoyed by those who accept invitations was to strike at individual rights. He would not oppose this resolution were it not a blow at rights. The church to which we belong has the very same grand recognition of personal liberty as the British constitution. The laws of our church sanction the principle. When the board invites and the minister accepts, the committee are never bothered with petitions from these boards, but he ventured to say that some of the very boards supporting this resolution would be before the stationing committee before the rise of the conference. This resolution, sent abroad as it was, whatever may have been its purpose, has started the worst agitation and disturbance ever brought into a conference. He likened it to an attempt such as was the old act of uniformity, which sought to compel everything to be done for the church. The act started a great movement of diversity. They could never take away from a man his individual right. They might persuade, but compel him, never. Here "time" was called, and on motion the debate was adjourned till the first order of business to-morrow.

A resolution asking for the raising of ministers' salaries in the Kamloops district was under discussion when the conference adjourned at noon.

SATURDAY MORNING SESSION.

The conference opened at the usual hour and after the preliminary exercises the debate on "invitations" was resumed. Dr. Carman pointed out, however, that as the general superintendent of the church and representative of the general conference he would not be able to submit either of the resolutions touching these questions. The general conference had explicitely made provision for request of invitation in some form. If any evil has grown up here and in case a deadlock existed between the annual conference and the stationing committee the final action of the stationing committee must be accepted as governing appointments for the year. He could admit a resolution calculated to regulate the workings of an annual conference but could not submit a resolution to vote which proposes legislation plainly belonging to the general conference. He ruled against the constitutionality of both these resolutions and for the present quashed the discussion. If this conference wishes to change the law of our church the proper proceeding is to memorialize the general conference, and he would not admit any other resolution than one with this in view.

The choking off of this debate was a great deluge of cold water to the conference, as several speeches which had been carefully prepared were by this action lost to the world. Dr. Carman ruled that the discipline recognizes the right of a board to request the appointment of a minister. In answer to Rev. C. M. Tate, who asked "whether a circuit had the right to enter into negotiations with a minister excepting through the transfer committee?" Dr. Carman said, "the transfer committee will never become the medium of your negotiations. They are not constituted for that purpose. It would be just as well for boards to have some proper understanding with a minister before applying for his transfer." A voice—"A little courting?" Dr. Carman said he had no objection to that word. It is very innocent or else we are all very guilty. A smattering of other questions was engaged in to the great entertainment to the conference, and it passed on to consider other business.

The memorial of the Kamloops district requesting a higher basis of salary was next discussed. It was resolved to raise the basis of salary to the old figures in this district by asking the general board of missions to arrange the disbursements, so that the percentage of deficiency in the missionary grant each year be not deducted from the salaries of the missionaries employed in that district. A further recommendation suggests also that such provision be made in the amount of appropriation to the chair of this district as to enable the committee to station a man in that district irrespective of the number in his family. It was unanimously carried.

The report of the Epworth League committee shows an increase of four leagues in the conference and an increase in membership of 35. Provincial Young People's Association was then introduced to the conference and spoke of the influence of the work of the Epworth leagues on all parts of the province.

CONFERENCE NOTES.

The Epworth League of the Mary street church gave a reception and luncheon to the conference on Friday at 1 o'clock. The tea was served in the school room of the church and the members of conference and their friends invited by neat invitation cards. A magnificent spread of the choicest productions of the culinary art greeted the eyes and ravished the appetites of those who descended to the room. The tables were served by the ladies of the league and a most pleasant hour was spent in chat and lunch.

At 1:45 Rev. J. Hall, president of conference, called the assembly to order and asked Rev. C. Bryant to come to the platform, where he (the president) expressed the compliments of the conference, regretting the necessity which compels Mr. Bryant to retire from the active work. The members of conference would not allow this occasion to pass without giving some tangible expression of its high appreciation of the past services of this honored brother. On behalf of the members of conference he presented Rev. C. Bryant with a collection of excellent books. This presentation was greeted with an outburst of applause.

Rev. Mr. Bryant, on rising to reply, confessed his complete surprise and testified his heartfelt appreciation of the sentiments uttered by the president of conference. He rejoiced in the fact that he was the "pioneer" Methodist of British Columbia. He had been 23 years in the active work of his ministry and it was with great regret that he laid down the weapons of his warfare. Continuing he referred to the cordial feelings always existing between himself and the other members of the church. He very gratefully accepted the volumes. Being intensely fond of books no gift could be more appropriate. He hoped to live long in the service and to see the continuous progress of the church.

Rev. Dr. Carman in a spicy speech moved the company in a vote of thanks to the league of the Westminster Epworth Leagues for the splendid entertainment. Mr. J. Clarkson, also a pioneer of the province, was called for and addressed the gathering. The addresses of both these speakers were spicy and pathetic, calling up old recollections and reviewing the fruitful growth of Methodism in the province.

The assembly were dismissed by Dr. Carman with the benediction.

There was no session of the conference Saturday afternoon, as the college board met for the discussion of plans for future work.

There was a rousing educational meeting and missionary gathering on Friday evening in the Mary street church. Rev. Dr. Carman and Professor Whittington were the speakers. Great interest was excited and a good house was present.

CRICKET.

VICTORIA C.C. VS. CORRIG COLLEGE.

On Saturday afternoon on the Caledonia Grounds, Corrig College suffered defeat at the hands of a fairly strong eleven of the Victoria C.C. The club went in first and made 62. Smith, Drake and Goward played well for 16, 17 and 11 respectively. The College fielding and bowling was very good. The bowling of Goward and Morley was too much for the College, who were all out for 27, Field and Cartwright being the only batsmen to give any trouble.

On Wednesday the College play a return match with an eleven of H.M.S. Garnet at Esquimalt, and on Thursday at Beacon Hill they meet an eleven captained by Rev. J. P. Hewetson.

ALBION C.C. VS. H. F. MYTTON'S XI.

The Albions met an eleven captained by Mr. Mytton on their own grounds on Saturday afternoon. It resulted in a victory for Mr. Mytton's team. Their success was due to the batting of Irving, who carried his bat through the innings, and to the bowling of R. Goward, who took six wickets for 11 runs, and T. H. Paterson, three wickets for 17. These two bowled unchanged through the Albion innings. C. Schwengers took three wickets for 0 runs for his side. The scores are below:—

THE RING.

SMITH AND JACKSON TALKING.

Chicago, May 15.—Denver Smith, the pugilist, is on the warpath after Peter Jackson as a result of the severalic terms in which the champion alluded to Smith's challenge for a fight for $5000 a side. Jackson undertook to say that Smith did all his putting up of money and his talk in saloons, and that he wasn't the kind of game that Jackson was looking for. Smith regards himself as good as Jackson, and if the two men happen to come together by accident there is likely to be blood on the face of the moon.

BILLIARDS.

HELPING A STRANDED SPORT.

Chicago, May 15.—Representative English and American billiardists are participating this afternoon at the Imperial Hall in a series of matches for the benefit of William Sexton, the "Comanche briva" of the billiard world, and who has been reduced to financial straits by unfortunate business transactions and ill health. A similar affair is to take place in New York next Thursday. Representative billiard experts the country over are coming to the relief of their unfortunate brother, and it is expected that the fund secured will be large enough to put him once more on his feet.

THE GUN.

MINOR WINS THE UNION CONTEST.

The Union Club held the twelfth and final shoot for the Hamilton Powder Co.'s medal at Macaulay's point on Saturday. C. W. Minor won the contest and with it the medal, which becomes his personal property. His score was 41 out of 50. B. H. Johns was second with 40.

SHORT WINS THE VICTORIA MEDAL.

The Victoria Gun Club held the tenth, eleventh and twelfth shoots for the Hamilton Powder Co.'s medal, and H. N. Short captured all these contests and with them the medal. His scores were 23, 21 and 21 out of a possible 25 in each case.

LACROSSE.

WESTMINSTER WINS.

The Vancouver-Westminster match, played at the Terminal City on Saturday was one of the most exciting, towards the end, on record. It took just half an hour longer than usual to settle the game. Vancouver won the first three games in 30, 6 and 7 minutes respectively, and then Westminster won three games in 17, 8 and 5 minutes respectively. This made a tie and the two hour allowance was up. The referee ordered another 30 minutes' play, and for twenty more minutes the ball was kept travelling between the two goals. During the last minute Westminster sent the ball through the Vancouver goal, winning the match.

CANOEING.

SATURDAY'S CRUISE.

About twenty canoes flying the Victoria Club's pennant took part in Saturday's cruise. They left the club house at 2 o'clock, Commodore Rogers being in charge. On reaching the head of the Arm the canoeists divided, some coming home by the Gorge, and others portaging and returning via Esquimalt and Macaulay's point.

THE RIFLE.

FIRST PRACTICE.

The Victoria riflemen held their first practice at Clover point on Saturday. The scores were:—

	500.	600.	Total
A. R. Langley	29	33	62
B. Williams	31	27	58
M. G. Blanchard	29	28	57
W. R. McInnes	32	21	53
W. B. McInnes	32	21	53

G. H. Morkill	26	23	49
W. Duncan	23	23	46
F. A. Quigley	24	21	45
D. McConnan	26	16	42

The best scores were Senator McInnes' 34 out of 35 at 500 yards and A. R. Langley's 33 out of 35 at 600 yards.

THE TURF.

DIABLO WINS.

ATHLETIC.

HARVARD DEFEATS YALE.

Boston, May 13.—Notwithstanding the rain, the third annual athletic meeting between Harvard and Yale took place on Holmes' field, Cambridge, this afternoon. The crimson again triumphed over the blue, but the result of the game was much in doubt until the last few events were run off. Harvard's superior work in the 100-yard dash, 440-yard run, 220-yard hurdles, 220-yard dash, 880-yard run, putting the 16-pound shot, running high jump and running broad jump carried the day for the crimson. In 113 events on the programme Harvard scored 67 points to 45 of Yale. There were no records broken except in the running broad jump, where Bloss succeeded in jumping 32 feet 4 inches, or 1 1-2 inches better than the previous Harvard record.

The Father of Centennials.

JESSE E. PEYTON

Jesse E. Peyton, known as father of Centennials, suggests the idea of holding a celebration at Jerusalem to commemorate the 2000th anniversary of the Christian era. A meeting will be held next month at Philadelphia to discuss the advisability of such a celebration. Col. Jesse E. Peyton was the first person to suggest the event in 1875 commemorative of Bunker Hill, also the exhibition at Philadelphia, the erection of the Yorktown monument in 1891, the New York celebration in memory of the inauguration of Washington and the establishment of the government, and the World's Fair at Chicago. Col. Peyton lives at Haddonfield, near Philadelphia. He is about 75 years of age.

HEATHORN PROPERTY SALE.

Government and Langley Street Lots Sell for $26,000.

The Heathorn estate property was to-day sold by Deputy Sheriff Siddal, in obedience to a writ issued out of the Supreme Court. Lots 59, 99 and 600, running through from Government to Langley streets, were purchased by Mr. W. C. Ward for $26,000. The property has a frontage of 20 feet on both Government and Langley streets, with a depth of 120 feet. The leasehold of the property (including the building) upon which Mr. H. Jamieson's store stands was sold for $950.

The Rock Bay property, including the residence, lumber yard, coal wharf, old tannery site and two frame residences opposite the old tannery, was purchased by Mr. D. R. Harris, for Mr. G. B. Ordano. The price paid was $11,000.

A legal gentleman objected to the sale on the ground that the property should have been sold under the mortgages and not under the writ.

NAKUSP
SLOCAN MINES

The Eldorado of British Columbia

All the ore output now assured to Nakusp by the immediate construction of the NAKUSP & SLOCAN RAILWAY, which will start at Nakusp and end at the Forks of Carpenter Creek, directly in the centre of the Slocan Mines.

No Other Route can Possibly Compete

Thirty-five miles of Railway from Nakusp will tap the whole of the Mines of the Slocan District, and the ores are bound to come out BY THE NATURAL GATEWAY, VIA NAKUSP, to the general welfare and prosperity of the Province.

Look at the Map.

A Provincial Railway Charter and subsidy and a Dominion Railway Charter have been obtained for the Nakusp & Slocan Railway, and the Canadian Pacific Co. have entered into an agreement to lease and operate the Railway for 25 years. There can be no doubt as to the importance of NAKUSP, the Gateway of the Slocan Country, either from the North or South, and the principal shipping and distributing point for all the district tributary to Slocan Lake.

Concentrators and Samplers

Now in contemplation, consequent on the definite settlement of the Railway question. The Nakusp & Slocan Railway will be built with a rush right into the heart of the Mines. See Wardner's and other experts' estimates of the production of Slocan Mines in the press. All this now assured is directly tributary to the Nakusp & Slocan Railway.
